9 Board Candidates List Plans For City's Schools

What are the goals, the future plans for East Liverpool's school system in the eyes of the nine men seeking the three board of education posts in the Nov. 7 election?

Their hopes range from efforts to "re-establish confidence of the public" to completion of the new schools with the experience gained as incumbent board members.

More interest in the board contest is developing as the election approaches, and considerable attention is expected to be focused upon the candidates and the issues in the next few weeks.

Three incumbents — Samuel W. Brown, John Woomer and Richard Smith — will be after new terms on the basis of their accomplishments in the past, including the start of four new schools.

SIX OTHER men — one a teacher in another district — are seeking to oust them for various claimed reasons, including the lack of full education programs and alleged decline of public support for the present board.

The other candidates include Larry Walton, Kenneth Persohn, Tom Rodfong, Richard Wolf, George Ward and Willis Standley. Ward and Rodfong have announced they are running as a two-man slate.

The names of Clarence J. Powell and Robert Dawson will appear on the ballots as candidates, but both have withdrawn from the race, Powell because he plans to move to Youngstown because of a job transfer, and Dawson because he feels his job as a Wellsville teacher would be "incompatible" with the East Liverpool board post.

The board candidates are scheduled to speak at a public forum to be held Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Westgate School auditorium, sponsored by the Jaycees.

THE REVIEW staff has asked each of the candidates to submit his proposals for the city's education system.

Brown, City Postmaster for 12 years, is serving for the third year as vice president of the Board. A lifetime resident, he has had over 30 years in the Post Office, and has served three terms as vice president of the National Association of Postmasters of Ohio.

A Lt. Colonel in the United States Army Reserves, Intelligence Divisoin of Adjutant Generals Corps, he was graduated from East Liverpool High School and Kent State University where he received a bachelor of science degree in Education.

He is treasurer of the Kent State University Branch Advisory Board, a charter member of the East Liverpool Scholarship Foundation and a member of the Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Brown is a member of Rotary Club, as well as other civic groups and various Masonic lodges.

He is married to Grace Smurthwaite Brown, a teacher at the high school. They reside at Lisbon St. and Shady Ln. Dr.

Brown said, "'I shall work to accomplish and to carry out the wishes of the people, if re-elected. To the best of my ability, I will help, with the money made available by the taxpayers of this District and the State Foundation Program, to give the students the best scholastic education possible."

—:—

"I SHALL help raise the standards of the staff of teachers and employes by better pay scales and working conditions. I shall do my utmost to bring the present building program to a successful conclusion as soon as possible so that it might be utilized to its best potential with the existing and new programs for the students. These new schools were started during my present term and I felt that the experience gained will prove invaluable during the immediate years of completion ahead."

Police Seize Paper Mill Worker, 39

Barricaded Self In Nearby Home Following Spree

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—Six fellow workers were killed today by a berserk paper mill employe who led police on a trail of bullets and blood before he was captured. Seven persons were wounded in the hail of lead.

Leo Held, 39-year-old lab technician for the Hammermill Paper Co., barricaded himself in his nearby Loganton home after his wild and apparently unconnected shootings. He engaged in a shootout with a dozen state and local police.

Bullets struck him in the arms and legs as he sprayed answering shots at the officers before they broke into the house and seized him. His condition at Lock Haven Hospital was not serious.

The shootings began without warning at the Hammermill plant located on the edge of this semi-industrial farm community in Central Pennsylvania.

Police said Held fired quickly, but very accurately, cutting down nine persons. Five were pronounced dead at the hospital. Three others are in critical condition.

Then he ran out to his parked station wagon and drove a mile to the Lock Haven Airport, where the Piper Aircraft Co. plant is located. There he fired once, striking a girl office worker as she started to open the Piper company door.

Police said Held drove off again, apparently heading straight for his Loganton home, 17 miles southeast. En route, he pumped out more bullets from weapons he carried—police aren't sure how many he had in the car—and wounded three other persons.

It was reported that police found three rifles and four pistols in Held's house after he was seized.

What set Held off was unknown. Sheriff Jack Boyle of Clinton County said the shoot-

Industry Rigs Halted

Arrests Awaited In Hauler Strike

New violence erupted this morning in the nine - week trucker strike as haulers across the district awaited final tabulation of a vote on a compromise proposal.

Western Pennsylvania State Police, who kept watch on the blocking of four steel - loaded rigs at Industry over the weekend, issued a sharp warning against any trucker gatherings as a result of the damaging and rocking of a State Police cruiser at Vanport.

Arrests in the Saturday incident were expected momentarily late this morning, officers said.

Trucker violence was reported this morning at Ellwood City, but details were unclear.

The outbreaks Saturday started about 10 a. m. when the Chippewa Barracks of Pennsylvania State Police received a call to provide surveillance for trucks from the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. plant at Aliquippa to the Ohio line on Route 68 west of Midland.

Troopers learned there was a buildup of pickets along the route, and it was estimated 200 to 300 men lined the road between Aliquippa and Midland.

Additional manpower was sent from the Butler Barracks because of the number of pickets and possible violence.

In the meantime, the steel trucks were rerouted and sent to Negley where they were met by Ohio Highway Patrolmen and a helicopter.

The troopers then went to Route 68 to disperse the pickets. At one time a cruiser was surrounded by 30 to 40 pickets and the vehicle was rocked back and forth.

Ford Locals To Ballot On New Contract

Could Cost Firm Close To Billion In Next 3 Years

DETROIT (AP) — Top officials of the United Auto Workers today prepared for a ratification vote on a new contract with the Ford Motor Co. which could cost Ford close to a billion dollars in the next three years.

Ford executives made plans to get cars rolling off assembly lines if the strike, now in its 47th day and longest in the company's history, ends some time this week.

The union's Ford Council meets tonight and ratification votes by members are planned for Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ford plants in 25 states.

The council, made up of key officials in Ford locals, meets again at 8 p.m. Wednesday, to pass on the vote.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said he expected his men to be returning to work by Thursday with more expected Friday. Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, said employes could be back on the job Wednesday "at the earliest."

Denise and Reuther headed the opposing bargaining teams in 13 days of intensive negotiations before the contract was agreed on early Sunday.

Reuther said the union's gains represent "our share of the increase in productivity and cannot possibly form the basis for increasing prices."

The nation's four major domestic automakers have all increased prices for 1968-model cars and have indicated the prices could be changed depending on the cost of new contracts with the UAW.

Fresh American Forces Land In South Viet

U.S. Planes Hit North Naval Site

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes struck at a naval yard outside Haiphong for the first time Sunday as the vanguard of 4,100 fresh American infantrymen began coming ashore to help hold down South Vietnam's unstable northern battle zone.

Elements of the 196th Light Infantry Brigade joined 30,000 other infantrymen and 77,000 Marines already in the five northernmost Provinces. The area, known as 1st Corps, is one of deep Viet Cong penetration and high enemy operating efficiency.

The arrival of the full brigade over the next few days will push the total American strength in South Vietnam to approximately 487,000 men.

Shortly before the new troops swept out of landing craft at Chu Lai on the South China Sea, Navy jets took advantage of a break in bad weather to hit a new target, a naval yard seven miles outside Haiphong.

Fliers said they heavily damaged an oil depot and a drydock and destroyed a torpedo patrol boat. Other pilots pounded railroad yards 1.7 miles from the center of Haiphong in continuing efforts to stop the flow of supplies out of the key North Vietnamese port.

A carrier-based Navy A4 Skyhawk was shot down by enemy ground fire in the Haiphong area, the U.S. Command reported, and the pilot was missing. It was the 707th announced U.S. warplane loss over the North. Hanoi had claimed downing two U.S. raiders.

Marine jets struck a railroad siding and bridge 20 miles south of Hanoi. Other Marine pilots reported destroying 35 enemy fortifications just above the demilitarized zone in North Vietnam.

Air Force fighter-bombers from Thailand struck targets above Hanoi, bombing a railroad bridge, rail lines and a missile site. Pilots told of cutting rail lines 39 miles northeast of Hanoi and hitting approaches to the Lang Lau railroad bridge 36 miles north of the capital.

No significant ground fighting was reported across the country Monday, a lull apparently related to voting in South Vietnam for a new House of Representatives. About 72.9 per cent of the 5.8 million qualified voters were reported have turned out to choose among 1,200 candidates.

United Fund Obtains 82% Of Goal In 2-Week Drive

The concentrated two - week United Fund campaign has netted $102,023, with more collections and pledges still outstanding, John Starkey, drive chairman, announced today.

Starkey said the drive stands at 82 per cent of the $125,000 goal, and if those firms and individuals who have not yet made contributions can increase their allotment slightly, the campaign will "go over the top."

The close of the active solicitation Saturday found more funds obtained than in previous years, and established a precedence for next year's concentrated campaign, Starkey said.

A Friday deadline has been set for completion of collections and pledges from those sources who have not yet been able to commit themselves on the 1967 campaign for various reasons.

Starkey paid tribute to the volunteer workers and leaders and to the contributors for assisting in expediting the drive for the convenience of all.

He reported $71 had been collected at two benefit dances sponsored by "The Living Ends," in Chester and East

This Week's Weather Will Be Near Normal

The first part of the week is to be warm, with cooler weather due near the end.

Precipitation during the latter part of the week is expected to average 0.5 to one inch.

The immediate forecast calls for fair and not so cool tonight, with sunny and warm Tuesday.

West Virginia Crash Claims Midland Man

Funeral arrangements are being made for Lewis Jackson Barren of Route 68 near Midland who was killed Sunday near Ripley, W. Va., when his motorcycle struck a bridge support.

Mr. Jackson, 59, an employe of the Crucible Steel Co., Midland Division, was riding the cycle on Interstate 77 near the Goldtown Interchange when the mishap occurred.

Police said he had a history of epilepsy and might have "blacked out" minutes before the crash.

He was born April 15, 1907, in Lowndes County, Miss., and had been a resident of the Midland area for 17 years. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and USW-CIO Local 1212.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nettie Barron at home; a sister, Mrs. Esther Webber of Columbus, Miss., and three grandchildren.

The Leavell Funeral Home at Midland is in charge of arrangements.

The Herolds were introduced by Oland Baker of Elkrun Township, who shared the 1966 farmer of the year award with his twin, Leland Baker. The Herolds will receive a plaque from the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. The district board of supervisors gave them an aerial photograph of their farm.

Herman Reuter, SWCD work unit conservationist, reported on district activities.

Paul Livezey of the Federal Land Bank at Minerva presented plaques to Wayne Herrod and Roger Knecht, both of Lisbon high school, who placed first and second, respectively, in the SWCD science fair last spring. 9 Board Candidates List Plan's For City's Schools

United Association of Steam Fitters & Plumbers, headquartered in Steubenville, and is employed by Air Reduction Corp. A Navy veteran of World War II, Smith is a member of American Legion Post 4, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and the Barbershop Quartet Society. He has been a soloist at district church for many years.

Married, he has a daughter and two sons.

Smith said, "'After one becomes a member of the board, it is learned that some things are policy or state law and cannot be changed as one might imagine, so one concentrates on matters of importance which can be changed.

"IN MY FOUR years as a member, much has been done in this direction. We have begun a building program which will place us among the best physical plants in the state. Also we have gained a relationship with our employes that hitherto was not enjoyed. Our custodians have recently signed a union contract that is not only honorable, but in line with our economic structure.

"I think a large amount of credit goes to the board that our teachers have not demonstrated such as in other towns, and we are working on a pay schedule which will place them above others in the area. We have also written up a board policy which will direct this board and others to follow in proper procedures.

"I wish to continue on the board because I feel I have been a loyal, sincere and conscientious member — In four years I have not missed a meeting even though I have been at times working 100 miles away. I have approached each issue with honesty, and in the belief my attitude was the dictate of the public."

WOOMER, a lifetime resident of this city, is seeking his second term of office on the School Board. He is a Lt. Commander in the Navy Reserve, where he is operations officer in an anti-submarine squad.

He and his family reside on Imperial Dr. The couple has two children. Woomer, is a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, operator of the Inn Town Motel here. He said, "I am hopeful that all levies which are to be renewed will be looked on favorably by the voters. I am not in favor of any new levies in the foreseeable future, due to enactment of House Bill 350.

"I hope that poor public relations by the administration will be improved in the future. All my decisions are based on what I believe would best serve our school system.

"I feel that my experience in construction has been a valuable contribution to the board, not only for the new construction, but for maintainence of all buildings.

"I also feel that my commission as an officer and 13 years of leadership experience in the Navy helps qualify me to make decisions. I am very much in favor of sports for their value in building personality, character and scholarship possibilities, but I do not believe they should be considered before academic subjects."

PERSOHN IS A teacher of the fifth grade at Stanton Local grade school.

He is married and the father of two daughters, one a teacher and the other a sophomore at Ohio State University. He is a lifetime resident of the area, having graduated from East Liverpool High School and Geneva College. He is continuing graduate work at West Virginia University and Pitt.

Persohn is an elder in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church and is chairman of the legislative committee of the Jefferson County Teachers Association of which he is past president. He is a former delegate to the National Education Association convention and a former board member of the Eastern Ohio Teachers Association. He presently serves on the board of the Community Rescue Mission.

He was a member of the Marine Air Corps during World War II and in Korea.

Persohn said, "I feel that the people of East Liverpool have lost faith in the present school board. Because of this, we must have a change so that our school system can move ahead."

"If elected I will do all I can to bring about better relationships between school officials, teachers, citizens and the school board. Parents and children must have respect and confidence in their school officials, teachers and board if they are to put their faith and money into our schools."

RODFONG, A NATIVE of East Liverpool and a graduate of the high school, was graduated from Bowling Green State University in 1962 with a major in mathematics. Following graduation, he taught in the Southern Local School District for two years, as well as serving as assistant coach in football and basketball.

He is now employed by Crucible Steel Co. as a staff assistant in the Labor Relations Department. His work involves all types of labor problems through contractual agreements. He is an officer in the Blue and White Non - Pareil Club, advisor and director of Junior Achievement and a member of the Educational Development Committee.

Rodfong, his wife and two children reside on Pennsylvania Ave.

Rodfong said, "A primary objective is to have the best possible education program, for the better the elementary and secondary education made available to young people, the better prepared they will be as adults.

The school has to function in accordance with the world we live in; as the world changes, the education system must change. This means introducing new subjects, new teaching methods, other changes. These can't happen overnight, but it is imperative the administration and board stay abreast of changes and prepare for the future.

"It is my feeling there has been some laxity by the present board in public relations—the public is left uninformed on important matters such as financing and board policy. A solution might be to designate someone with ability in this line to be a public relations chairman with responsibility of keeping the community informed on all important education matters.

"I WOULD seek to obtain the best possible academic courses, and would like to expand the curriculum to encompass a broader educational program.

Ward, a graduate of the New York College of Ceramics at Alfred, is a ceramic engineer for the H. K. Porter Co., Wellsville. He attended schools in White Plains, N. Y.

He is a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and a 32nd - Degree Mason. He is a past president of the Taft School Parent - Teacher Association.

Ward of Southview Dr., and his family have lived in this area since 1954. He said, "The board of education should have the confidence of the people to be effective. Better communications must be established, normal channels fully utilized.

"I WOULD like to see a full athletic program continued, expanded if possible to involve more students, but athletics should be secondary to education. I would like to see us have the most advanced educational facilities and opportunities possible without encumbering taxpayers beyond their means. To keep the tax burden as low as possible, all means of outside aid should be studied.

"The prime responsibility of a board member should be providing the best schooling we can give to the young people — books, buildings, equipment, counselling, extra - curricular activities and a teaching program which will be of value whether he plans to enter college or industry.

"Tom Rodfong and I pledge ourselves to this goal, and to keep the people informed and aware of the reasons for any debatable decisions. In this way we hope to establish the confidence which is now lacking."

STANDLEY of 1724 Idaho Ave. is making his first bid at public office. He is turn supervisor in the Chemical Lab at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co., where he has been an employee for more than 30 years.

He is a member of Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Elks Club, Crucible Management Club, served for eight years in various capacities on the Pleasant Heights Parent-Teacher's Association and was a member of the Columbiana County PTA.

Standley is one of the original Little League managers in East Liverpool. He was graduated from Lincoln High School at Midland, and has resided here 25 years. He is married and is a father of two daughters, one of whom attends East Liverpool High School.

He served in the Chemical Warfare Division of the Army during World War II.

Standley said, "I feel that the candidates that are seeking office for the board are running for a very important office.

"I served for eight years in various capacities with PTA's, and worked very close with the schools. I have worked for and with children in the East Liverpool District and always enjoyed doing it. I would, if elected, do all in my power to work for the people of the East Liverpool School District to the best of my ability."

WOLF OF 920 Peake St., is a recorder in the Cold Strip Department at the Midland Division of Crucible Steel Co., where he has been employed more than ten years. He was the first to file for a local Board of Education seat.

Wolf is a member of the United Steelworkers Local 3177. A former player agent in the Pony Baseball League, he now serves as its president. He also has served two terms as president of the Blue and White Non - Pareil Club. He served four years in the Navy during the Korean conflict. He was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1950, and attended Kent State University, leaving when he was a sophomore. He ran for a school board post unsuccessfully in 1965.

A bachelor, he resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolf.

Mr. Wolf did not submit a resume of his proposals to The Review.

Walton of Macrum St., Dixonville, has been employed for five years at Don Eckert's Camera Mart. Previous to this position, he worked as a research technician for the Ferro Corp.

An Army Veteran of World War II, he served as a platoon sergeant for the 67th Armory, and remains a member of the Armory. He is a 32nd–Degree Mason and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Jaycees. Walton also serves as Deacon in the First Christian Church, Wellsville.

He and his wife, Carol Lynn, have a daughter, Heather, 4. She is, he said, one of the primary reasons he wants a position on the board.

WALTON SAID, "I have decided to run for a position on the Board because I believe in the need for education to progress. There is now a lack of rapport between the present board and the voting public which cannot be bridged by the incumbents. Their actions, and the actions of the administrators hired by them, have alienated them from a large portion of our citizens."

"I cannot promise to work miracles; because, if elected, I would be only one voice in five. However, I plan to work for all plans and programs — my own and those of others — that will regain the confidence of the people."

"The support of the voting public is necessary to rebuild an active and progressive school district."

Dr. Gray presided at the laying of the cornerstone for a new $165,000 education wing of the church, declaring "The Church is more than mortar and stone, it is the body of Christ and we must constantly re-evaluate it to meet the changes in world conditions."

At the cornerstone rites, the box containing the Bible, hymnals and other items was placed by Thomas Hunston of W. North Ave., president of the Senior MYF and nephew of Walter A. Hunston who participated in a similar church cornerstone ceremony in 1905. Hunston, former county commissioner, was ill and unable to attend.

A congregational dinner at noon was attended by 200, and the homecoming, marking the 100th anniversary of the church, was held in the afternoon with greetings heard from former pastors and others. The Rev. Thomas Hammerton, present pastor, participated.

The new wing is about one-third completed, church authorities reported.

Walton of Macrum St., Dixonville, has been employed for five years at Don Eckert's Camera Mart. Previous to this position, he worked as a research technician for the Ferro Corp.

An Army Veteran of World War II, he served as a platoon sergeant for the 67th Armory, and remains a member of the Armory. He is a 32nd–Degree Mason and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Jaycees. Walton also serves as Deacon in the First Christian Church, Wellsville.

He and his wife, Carol Lynn, have a daughter, Heather, 4. She is, he said, one of the primary reasons he wants a position on the board.

WALTON SAID, "I have decided to run for a position on the Board because I believe in the need for education to progress. There is now a lack of rapport between the present board and the voting public which cannot be bridged by the incumbents. Their actions, and the actions of the administrators hired by them, have alienated them from a large portion of our citizens."

"I cannot promise to work miracles; because, if elected, I would be only one voice in five. However, I plan to work for all plans and programs — my own and those of others — that will regain the confidence of the people."

"The support of the voting public is necessary to rebuild an active and progressive school district."

300 Attend Rite, Homcoming For Palestine Church

EAST PALESTINE — Some 300 attended a cornerstone dedication and homecoming of the Centenary Methodist Church Sunday at which Dr. Robert Gray, Steubenville District superintendent, was speaker.

Dr. Gray presided at the laying of the cornerstone for a new $165,000 education wing of the church, declaring "The Church is more than mortar and stone, it is the body of Christ and we must constantly re-evaluate it to meet the changes in world conditions."

At the cornerstone rites, the box containing the Bible, hymnals and other items was placed by Thomas Hunston of W. North Ave., president of the Senior MYF and nephew of Walter A. Hunston who participated in a similar church cornerstone ceremony in 1905. Hunston, former county commissioner, was ill and unable to attend.

A congregational dinner at noon was attended by 200, and the homecoming, marking the 100th anniversary of the church, was held in the afternoon with greetings heard from former pastors and others. The Rev. Thomas Hammerton, present pastor, participated.

The new wing is about one-third completed, church authorities reported.

Causes Of A Great Unease

We are tempted, as Americans have been tempted in the past, to believe these must be the worst of all times.

That is too harsh a judgment — too gloomy an outlook.

Yet, no one can doubt that these have turned out to be some of the most trying of times. Americans never had so many reasons for doubting themselves as a nation.

The causes of unease are found in quarters where Americans never had doubts until the last few years.

We never questioned the justness of our wars.

All wars, starting with the Revolutionary War, found Americans fighting for unquestionably noble causes. Such doubts as arose during the Mexican War and the Spanish - American War were stifled.

Nationwide misgivings about war were voiced first during the Korean War. They were only a murmur compared to the outcry that has gone up about the Vietnam War.

WE NEVER questioned the long-term stewardship of public money before. It always was possible to fall back on the bland assumption that the federal government could curtail its spending any time it was necessary. But in 1967 this sounds like the habitual drinker's and smoker's excuse that he can stop whenever he wants to.

Millions of taxpayers, squeezed from one side by rising local and state taxes, threatened with a federal surtax on the other side and weakened by inflationary cheapening of dollars, are wondering if the federal government has lost its fiscal brakes and has nothing left but an accelerator.

This is the first time we have lived with serious doubts about the ability of the rising generation to come through with flying colors.

Granted that the overwhelming majority of American youngsters are still full of beans and bounce, it also must be granted that today's mass demonstrations by rebellious young men and women who preach mistrust of everybody over 30 and their camp following of dope-swallowing "world dropouts" are more numerous proportionately and infinitely more threatening than anything that has happened previously in American history.

These are major causes of unease. They are accompanied by minor causes.

Despite the presence in cities and urban complexes of more than 80 per cent of the people of the United States, it has not been demonstrated that this is a feasible distribution of population.

Racial friction consumes far too much of the nation's energy.

THE VAST disparity between the middle class and the poor is gnawing at American self-assurance. In a society that once boasted the world's highest standard of living, it has become necessary to acknowledge that the standard does not apply to the jobless and that no one knows what to do about them.

Education is a source of unease. It has dawned on minds preoccupied with the dream of universal satisfaction through universal education that teachers are more important than sprawling buildings and raw new campuses — and teachers aren't forthcoming. They, themselves, are in a rebellious mood.

There is a great unease. It is compounded of doubts and questions never raised before in a land whose future always was bright because all its wars seemed just and all its policies and stratagems indisputably correct.

It's not the worst of all times; there have been worse.

But never have there been so many questions raised, all adding up to the one big unanswered question: Where are we hoping to go and are we planning the proper way to get there.

T. R. And The Vietniks

A game which some political scientists occasionally play involves conjecture about what a previous government leader would do when faced by the problems of today.

Friday marks the birthday anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt, dynamic rugged individualist who served as President 1901-1908, fighting governmental corruption by big business, pushing conservation, mediating peace between Russia and Japan and manipulating the start of construction of the Panama Canal.

Oldtimers in this district will recall "Teddy" paid East Liverpool a brief visit in May 1912, one month before he formed the Progressive party, splitting the Republicans and giving Democrat Woodrow Wilson the Presidency.

Roosevelt's most famous quote was delivered at the Minnesot State Fair in 1901 when he said, "There is a homely adage which runs, 'Speak softly and carry a big stick; you will go far.' If the American nation will speak softly and yet build and keep at a pitch of the highest training a thoroughly efficient Navy, the Monroe Doctrine will go far."

Some of the claims of the anti-war demonstrators at Washington this weekend — that American expansionism threatens the sovereignty of the South Vietnamese — might well be held against the background of U.S. foreign policy of the past.

American governmental and political interests — other than in Latin America — has always been to withdraw to the lesser limits of peace-keeping, as witness the end of World War I and War II in Europe and World War II in Japan. The defeated Germans and Japanese, for example, were granted the right to democratic governments which have proven successful.

American economic interests have been heavily involved in Latin America in complex arrangements varying with each nation, and resulting in many benefits to U.S. and Latins if not to the total population of the Latin nations.

But it is difficult to understand in what way the U. S. can stand to gain economically with involvement in the deadly and expensive conflict in South Vietnam. Politically, we seek only to establish a free, unthreatened, self- governing nation there, and keep the status quo elsewhere in Asia.

Theodore Roosevelt was a man who believed in American democracy — "The object of government is the welfare of the people" — and it would be unfair in 1967, despite his "big stickism", to align him for or against the war in Vietnam.

But as a man familiar with big business and the intricacies of trusts and exploitation, we suspect he would break out his teeth - filled smile at the thought of "expansionism" or "imperialism" as the reason for U.S. troops in Vietnam today.

Whatever uncertainties we have about involvement in this tragic fighting, we must not lend ourselves to the fuzzy thinking that typifies some of the Vietniks who are more anti-U.S. than anti-war.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

A lady reader wonders why I stay in a state of shock about miniskirts. You look, don't you, she wants to know. Sure I look. I have glazed a pair of trifocals looking. I shall grow as long as miniskirts last. When I start to yawn, what will be left in life?

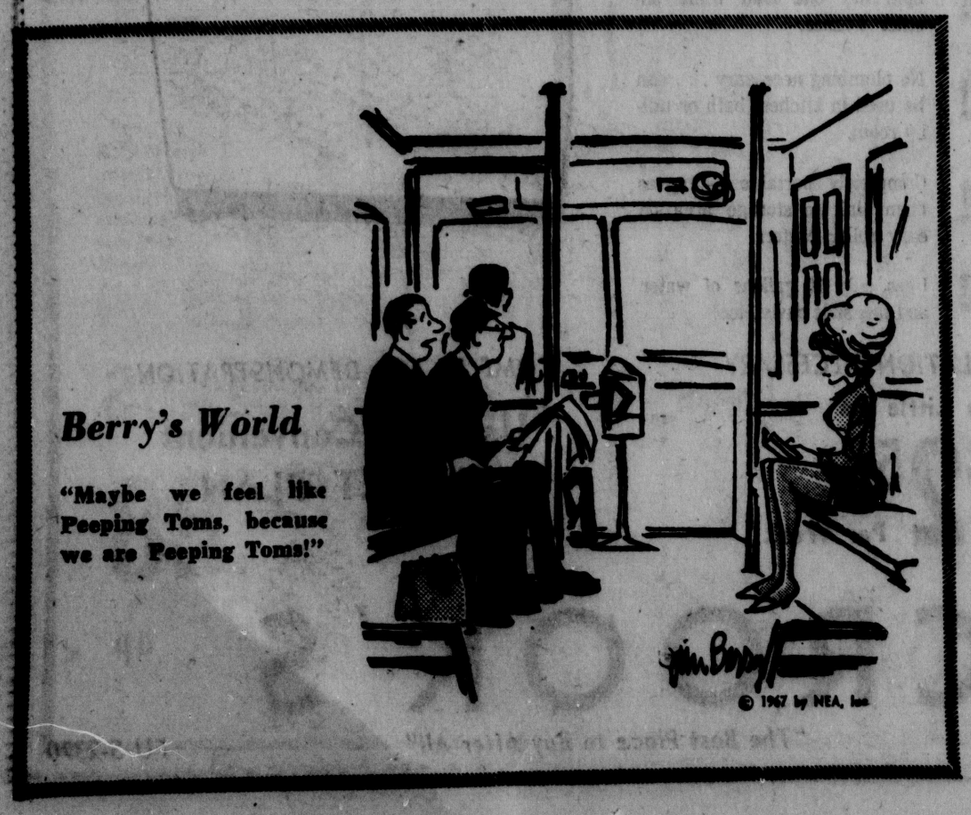

The girl in the red Corvair continues to be aloof, and I continue to be helpless. I could blink my lights when it finally stays dark until after 8 a.m. She might think I was having a short circuit.

I think people who conclude the hippie movement is folding up because it is fading in San Francisco are deluding themselves. The movement is here to stay. It is the revolt of a rising generation against values that don't ring true for youth and haven't been ringing true for adults either.

One of my dreams is to organize a school system administered entirely by teachers — real teachers handpicked for teaching ability — then turn them loose on educable kids and watch a miracle of learning.

Happiness is a warm puppy, a dry martini, a winning parlay — you name it. To me, it would have been a Saturday afternoon football game in October with my best girl — a pleasure I never had because I was a gladiator in all the games I wanted to go to with my best girl.

I do not recall why the idea seemed fun-packed then, but I recall that our family used to pile into the surrey and drive out to the country on October Sundays looking for hickory nut trees so we could fill a sack to take home for winter evenings. What do you mean, you can't remember why it was fun?

Seeking A 'Lift'

On The House

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

A government-sponsored study on alcoholism has just been released and some of the recommendations are bound to cause quite a flurry in the United States.

The study said that it should be national policy to adapt realistically to a predominantly "dinking society." It is believed that if you made alcoholic beverages available to children, there would be less drinking than if you repressed them.

Art Buchwald

Having lived in France for a long time, I'm not sure the suggestions will produce the hoped-for results. Children in France dring wine at a very early age, and the French have one of the largest alcoholism problems in the world. I recall that in the Calvados, where the best apple brandy is made, the teachers once protested because mothers were giving their children a shot of brandy in the morning and the kids were staggering all over the roads on their way to school.

Even if the study is correct, the big question is 'How do you promote drinking in a family setting?'

THE SCENE is the home of the Thompsons. It's 6 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Thompson yells up to his teen-age son, "George, can I make you a martini?"

"No thanks, Dad, I'd rather have a glass of milk."

"Listen, you come down right away and drink this martini or you won't get any dinner!"

"OK, but I still have a hangover from the white wine Mom packed in my lunch."

"One martini won't hurt you, besides, it will keep you from becoming an alcoholic."

George comes downstairs, and Mrs. Thompson comes out of the kitchen.

Karen Thompson, their 14-year-old daughter, enters and says, "Hi, folks. What's for dinner?"

Mrs. Thompson says, "I've made a turtle soup with sherry, a beef Burgundy sauce, salad with white wine dressing and for dessert brandied cherries and coffee served with whipped cream and Irish whisky."

"Oh, boy," George says, "I knew I should have done my homework before dinner."

"That's enough of that," Mr. Thompson says sternly. "Your mother has been slaving over a hot bar all day long, and the least you can do is not make wisecracks about her cooking."

MRS. THOMPSON says, "Karen, you didn't eat the orange in your whisky sour."

"Mother, you know I hate oranges."

"But how else are you going to get your vitamins?"

"Where's Freddy?" Mr. Thompson asks.

"He's up in bed. He passed out from all those liqueur-filled chocolates you brought home last night."

"Serves him right for eating between meals."

After dinner the family is back in the living room. Mr. Thompson and George are singing "Sweet Adeline." Karen is sitting on top of the piano, and Mrs. Thompson is making daquiris for everyone.

Freddy comes staggering down the stairs. "I'm hungry."

"All right," Mrs. Thompson says. "Help yourself to a cold glass of beer in the icebox."

Down On The Farm

By Ovid A. Martin

The housewife's complaints about meat prices are matched by grumblings over the same thing from down on the farm.

The family shopper insists meats cost too much, so as a consequence she often turns to chicken, fish and the like.

But the livestockman says prices are too low for meat animals and he is having trouble keeping his head above economic waters.

There is room for debate, but many of the dollars - and - cents facts are on the side of the livestock farmer.

Furthermore, it appears certain for the long pull that meat prices will tend to be a little higher. Otherwise, there is apt to be an inadequate supply.

HOW HIGH are meat prices? The Agriculture Department reports choice grade beef sold nationally at an average retail price of 83 cents a pound during the early summer. This compared with 85.5 cents a year earlier and with 78.1 cents for the 1957-59 average.

Pork sold at an average retail price of 66.1 cents a pound last summer compared with 72.4 cents a year earlier and a 1957-59 average of 60.5 cents, said the department.

This year's prices are discouraging production of hogs and beef cattle. The number of beef cattle on farms is declining for the third consecutive year. This year's calf crop was down one per cent from last year and farmers cut down on the number of pigs raised.

If the livestockmen were making big money producing beef cattle and hogs, they would not be likely to curtail their operations. Government reports show, however, that many cattle feeders did not get enough from the sale last winter of quality fattened cattle to cover costs.

CATTLE PRICES have eased upward a little in recent weeks, but not sufficiently to encourage any sizable increase in production.

An Agriculture Department report showed cattle feeding has been an uncertain activity in recent years. In the 1962-63 season, returns for a 1,050-pound choice steer fell $13.36 short of costs. The deficit averaged $13.85 the following year, but in the 1964-65 season there was an average profit of $55.45. This profit declined to $25.52 in 1965-66 before tumbling to a 42-cent loss during 1966-67.

The agricultural press has been filled this year with reports and discussions of what is termed unrest in the livestock industry. Where the cattle industry used to experience one economically bad feeding year in seven, it now has one in about every three years.

Dr. Harold F. Breimyer, University of Missouri agricultural economist, says that years ago bad times in the cattle business were caused mainly by bad weather or a business recession.

"Now loss margins in feeding are self - induced by the feeding industry," he says. "They are caused by recurring periods of over - confidence and over - investment."

HE MEANT that when meat animal prices improve, many farmers expand their operations sharply. The resulting increase in meat supplies causes prices to tumble, bringing losses and curtailed production.

Strong moves are being made in the cattle industry to obtain a greater stability of meat animal production — a stability that would be reflected in more uniform level of prices that would assure efficient producers a good return.

A high degree of production control is bound to come. It may be managed largely by the industry itself, although some agricultural leaders believe there will be some government assistance.

On Its Own Feet

Spain's Minorca stands on its own two feet by making shoes for thousands of other feet.

For more than a century, small factories on the Mediterranean island have handcrafted exqusite shoes for customers on the mainland.

Now, mass production techniques in Spain are threatening Minorca's main source of income. Thus the islanders are promoting another traditional export, Cheddar cheese, and have built an automated packing plant to expand sales in mainland supermarkets.

But Minorca's hope for the future lies in the golden promise of tourism — not shoes or cheese. A jet airport and other extensive tourist facilities are planned for the historic island.

Study of Spending Proposed

WASHINGTON

During all the recent congressional thunder about government spending and how it might be controlled, legislation with interesting possibilities — and important connections — has been slumbering unnoticed.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., introduced it June 5 after he expressed concern in a speech about government continuing to expand by adding new programs without studying all its undertakings to determine whether some might now be unproductive, outmoded or otherwise ripe for phasing out.

The bill would create a commission of 12 private citizens to "make a full and complete study and evaluation of existing federal programs and activities, old and new, and of projected expansions." It would be directed to report on the effectiveness of each program in terms of costs, whether each should be continued and which should have priority in assignment of federal funds.

FOUR MEMBERS would be appointed each by the President, the speaker of the House and the president pro - tempore of the Senate.

While the commission in some ways would resemble the Hoover commissions that studied the organization of government and made recommendations for improvements, there would be a significant difference. Unlike the Hoover commissions, the proposed new one would contain no officials, from either the legislative or executive branches.

Mills' speech and introduction of the bill should have been notice to the administration that Mills, while chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, was thinking more and more in terms of holding down spending and the general growth of government.

Yet the administration showed every evidence of surprise nearly four months later when Mills, as his committee pigeonholed the tax increase bill, said the price for a tax raise was not only an immediate spending cut but a holddown on spending programs later.

The commission measure attracted comparatively little attention, but several members of the House and Sen. William E. Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, introduced identical or similar measures.

Promire has been a consistent opponent of the tax increase and advocate of reducing government outlays during the current fiscal stringency.

PROPONENTS of the commission said it offered a way out of the apparently insoluble difficulties Congress always finds itself in when it tries to make choices itself about programs to phase out or proposed new ones to encourage.

The interests involved rally around programs and the pressures mount until it is tempting to take the easy way out and add on without paring off. An impartial, strictly nonpolitical commission would be a handy thing to lean on.

But the administration showed no interest in backing the proposal — in sharp contrast to former President Harry S. Truman's backing of the commissions headed by Hoover.

Referred to the Government Operations Committee, the bill has gathered dust. Mills has not pressed for action. He has told associates he does not want to give the impression that his stand on the tax bill is merely a plot to get a pet measure passed.

But it seems possible that if a compromise to develop a spending reduction program and revive the tax bill is ever worked out, Mills' long - range plan may figure in it.

Friday marks the birthday anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt, dynamic rugged individualist who served as President 1901-1908, fighting governmental corruption by big business, pushing conservation, mediating peace between Russia and Japan and manipulating the start of construction of the Panama Canal.

Oldtimers in this district will recall "Teddy" paid East Liverpool a brief visit in May 1912, one month before he formed the Progressive party, splitting the Republicans and giving Democrat Woodrow Wilson the Presidency.

Roosevelt's most famous quote was delivered at the Minnesot State Fair in 1901 when he said, "There is a homely adage which runs, 'Speak softly and carry a big stick; you will go far.' If the American nation will speak softly and yet build and keep at a pitch of the highest training a thoroughly efficient Navy, the Monroe Doctrine will go far."

Some of the claims of the anti-war demonstrators at Washington this weekend -- that American expansionism threatens the soverignity of the South Vietnamese -- might well be held against the background of U.S. foreign policy of the past.

American governmental and political interests -- other than in Latin America -- has always been to withdraw to the lesser limits of peace-keeping, as witness the end of World War I and War II in Europe and World War II in Japan. The defeated Germans and Japanese, for example, were granted the right to democratic governments which have proven successful.

American economic interests have been heavily involved in Latin America in complex arrangements varying with each nation, and resulting in many benefits to U.S. and Latins if not to the total population of the Latin nations.

But it is difficult to understand in what way the U. S. can stand to gain economically with involvement in the deadly and expensive conflict in South Vietnam. Politically, we seek only to establish a free, unthreatened, self- governing nation there, and keep the status quo elsewhere in Asia.

Theodore Roosevelt was a man who believed in American democracy -- "The object of government is the welfare of the people" -- and it would be unfair in 1967, despite his "big stickism", to align him for or against the war in Vietnam.

But as a man familiar with big business and the intricacies of trusts and exploitation, we suspect he would break out his teeth - filled smile at the thought of "expansionism" or "imperialism" as the reason for U.S. troops in Vietnam today.

Whatever uncertainties we have about involvement in this tragic fighting, we must not lend ourselves to the fuzzy thinking that typifies some of the Vietniks who are more anti-U.S. than anti-war.

Purely Personal

A lady reader wonders why I stay in a state of shock about miniskirts. You look, don't you, she wants to know. Sure I look. I have glazed a pair of trifocals looking. I shall grow as long as miniskirts last. When I start to yawn, what will be left in life?

The girl in the red Corvair continues to be aloof, and I continue to be helpless. I could blink my lights when it finally stays dark until after 8 a.m. She might think I was having a short circuit.

I think people who conclude the hippie movement is folding up because it is fading in San Francisco are deluding themselves. The movement is here to stay. It is the revolt of a rising generation against values that don't ring true for youth and haven't been ringing true for adults either.

One of my dreams is to organize a school system administered entirely by teachers -- real teachers handpicked for teaching ability -- then turn them loose on educable kids and watch a miracle of learning.

Happiness is a warm puppy, a dry martini, a winning parlay -- you name it. To me, it would have been a Saturday afternoon football game in October with my best girl -- a pleasure I never had because I was a gladiator in all the games I wanted to go to with my best girl.

I do not recall why the idea seemed fun-packed then, but I recall that our family used to pile into the surrey and drive out to the country on October Sundays looking for hickory nut trees so we could fill a sack to take home for winter evenings. What do you mean, you can't remember why it was fun?

Seeking A 'Lift'

On The House

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

A government-sponsored study on alcoholism has just been released and some of the recommendations are bound to cause quite a flurry in the United States.

The study said that it should be national policy to adapt realistically to a predominantly "dinking society." It is believed that if you made alcoholic beverages available to children, there would be less drinking than if you repressed them.

Art Buchwald

Having lived in France for a long time, I'm not sure the suggestions will produce the hoped-for results. Children in France dring wine at a very early age, and the French have one of the largest alcoholism problems in the world. I recall that in the Calvados, where the best apple brandy is made, the teachers once protested because mothers were giving their children a shot of brandy in the morning and the kids were staggering all over the roads on their way to school.

Even if the study is correct, the big question is 'How do you promote drinking in a family setting?'

THE SCENE is the home of the Thompsons. It's 6 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Thompson yells up to his teen-age son, "George, can I make you a martini?"

"No thanks, Dad, I'd rather have a glass of milk."

"Listen, you come down right away and drink this martini or you won't get any dinner!"

"OK, but I still have a hangover from the white wine Mom packed in my lunch."

"One martini won't hurt you, besides, it will keep you from becoming an alcoholic."

George comes downstairs, and Mrs. Thompson comes out of the kitchen.

Karen Thompson, their 14-year-old daughter, enters and says, "Hi, folks. What's for dinner?"

Mrs. Thompson says, "I've made a turtle soup with sherry, a beef Burgundy sauce, salad with white wine dressing and for dessert brandied cherries and coffee served with whipped cream and Irish whisky."

"Oh, boy," George says, "I knew I should have done my homework before dinner."

"That's enough of that," Mr. Thompson says sternly. "Your mother has been slaving over a hot bar all day long, and the least you can do is not make wisecracks about her cooking."

MRS. THOMPSON says, "Karen, you didn't eat the orange in your whisky sour."

"Mother, you know I hate oranges."

"But how else are you going to get your vitamins?"

"Where's Freddy?" Mr. Thompson asks.

"He's up in bed. He passed out from all those liqueur-filled chocolates you brought home last night."

"Serves him right for eating between meals."

After dinner the family is back in the living room. Mr. Thompson and George are singing "Sweet Adeline." Karen is sitting on top of the piano, and Mrs. Thompson is making daquiris for everyone.

Freddy comes staggering down the stairs. "I'm hungry."

"All right," Mrs. Thompson says. "Help yourself to a cold glass of beer in the icebox."

Down On The Farm

By Ovid A. Martin

The housewife's complaints about meat prices are matched by grumblings over the same thing from down on the farm.

The family shopper insists meats cost too much, so as a consequence she often turns to chicken, fish and the like.

But the livestockman says prices are too low for meat animals and he is having trouble keeping his head above economic waters.

There is room for debate, but many of the dollars - and - cents facts are on the side of the livestock farmer.

Furthermore, it appears certain for the long pull that meat prices will tend to be a little higher. Otherwise, there is apt to be an inadequate supply.

HOW HIGH are meat prices? The Agriculture Department reports choice grade beef sold nationally at an average retail price of 83 cents a pound during the early summer. This compared with 85.5 cents a year earlier and with 78.1 cents for the 1957-59 average.

Pork sold at an average retail price of 66.1 cents a pound last summer compared with 72.4 cents a year earlier and a 1957-59 average of 60.5 cents, said the department.

This year's prices are discouraging production of hogs and beef cattle. The number of beef cattle on farms is declining for the third consecutive year. This year's calf crop was down one per cent from last year and farmers cut down on the number of pigs raised.

If the livestockmen were making big money producing beef cattle and hogs, they would not be likely to curtail their operations. Government reports show, however, that many cattle feeders did not get enough from the sale last winter of quality fattened cattle to cover costs.

CATTLE PRICES have eased upward a little in recent weeks, but not sufficiently to encourage any sizable increase in production.

An Agriculture Department report showed cattle feeding has been an uncertain activity in recent years. In the 1962-63 season, returns for a 1,050-pound choice steer fell $13.36 short of costs. The deficit averaged $13.85 the following year, but in the 1964-65 season there was an average profit of $55.45. This profit declined to $25.52 in 1965-66 before tumbling to a 42-cent loss during 1966-67.

The agricultural press has been filled this year with reports and discussions of what is termed unrest in the livestock industry. Where the cattle industry used to experience one economically bad feeding year in seven, it now has one in about every three years.

Dr. Harold F. Breimyer, University of Missouri agricultural economist, says that years ago bad times in the cattle business were caused mainly by bad weather or a business recession.

"Now loss margins in feeding are self - induced by the feeding industry," he says. "They are caused by recurring periods of over - confidence and over - investment."

HE MEANT that when meat animal prices improve, many farmers expand their operations sharply. The resulting increase in meat supplies causes prices to tumble, bringing losses and curtailed production.

Strong moves are being made in the cattle industry to obtain a greater stability of meat animal production -- a stability that would be reflected in more uniform level of prices that would assure efficient producers a good return.

A high degree of production control is bound to come. It may be managed largely by the industry itself, although some agricultural leaders believe there will be some government assistance.

On Its Own Feet

Spain's Minorca stands on its own two feet by making shoes for thousands of other feet.

For more than a century, small factories on the Mediterranean island have handcrafted exqusite shoes for customers on the mainland.

Now, mass production techniques in Spain are threatening Minorca's main source of income. Thus the islanders are promoting another traditional export, Cheddar cheese, and have built an automated packing plant to expand sales in mainland supermarkets.

But Minorca's hope for the future lies in the golden promise of tourism -- not shoes or cheese. A jet airport and other extensive tourist facilities are planned for the historic island.

Study of Spending Proposed

WASHINGTON

During all the recent congressional thunder about government spending and how it might be controlled, legislation with interesting possibilities -- and important connections -- has been slumbering unnoticed.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., introduced it June 5 after he expressed concern in a speech about government continuing to expand by adding new programs without studying all its undertakings to determine whether some might now be unproductive, outmoded or otherwise ripe for phasing out.

The bill would create a commission of 12 private citizens to "make a full and complete study and evaluation of existing federal programs and activities, old and new, and of projected expansions." It would be directed to report on the effectiveness of each program in terms of costs, whether each should be continued and which should have priority in assignment of federal funds.

FOUR MEMBERS would be appointed each by the President, the speaker of the House and the president pro - tempore of the Senate.

While the commission in some ways would resemble the Hoover commissions that studied the organization of government and made recommendations for improvements, there would be a significant difference. Unlike the Hoover commissions, the proposed new one would contain no officials from either the legislative or executive branches.

Mills' speech and introduction of the bill should have been notice to the administration that Mills, while chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, was thinking more and more in terms of holding down spending and the general growth of government.

Yet the administration showed every evidence of surprise nearly four months later when Mills, as his committee pigeonholed the tax increase bill, said the price for a tax raise was not only an immediate spending cut but a holddown on spending programs later.

The commission measure attracted comparatively little attention, but several members of the House and Sen. William E. Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, introduced identical or similar measures.

Promire has been a consistent opponent of the tax increase and advocate of reducing government outlays during the current fiscal stringency.

PROPONENTS of the commission said it offered a way out of the apparently insoluble difficulties Congress always finds itself in when it tries to make choices itself about programs to phase out or proposed new ones to encourage.

The interests involved rally around programs and the pressures mount until it is tempting to take the easy way out and add on without paring off. An impartial, strictly nonpolitical commission would be a handy thing to lean on.

But the administration showed no interest in backing the proposal -- in sharp contrast to former President Harry S. Truman's backing of the commissions headed by Hoover.

Referred to the Government Operations Committee, the bill has gathered dust. Mills has not pressed for action. He has told associates he does not want to give the impression that his stand on the tax bill is merely a plot to get a pet measure passed.

But it seems possible that if a compromise to develop a spending reduction program and revive the tax bill is ever worked out, Mills' long - range plan may figure in it.

rived on the scene at Vanport and a cruiser was hit on the roof and hood by a stone. The men were dispersed and the troopers moved on to Industry to Gallagher's.

Sgt. Elmer A. Barkay, commander of the Chippewa Barracks, said today he was to confer with the district attorney's office today and arrests will be made immediately in the incidents involving the cruisers.

He issued a stern warning about future outbreaks.

"There will be no more warnings. We will not tolerate any force or violence on the highways with the public involved. All persons who participate in this type of action, no matter who they are or what faction they represent, will be arrested on sight. The peace of the highway and the rights of the public will not be infringed on."

Troopers said they found large piles of stones, old truck tires and a telephone pole cut in two sections along Route 68, indicative of the possible violence.

Some 100 members of the steel haulers protest movement picketed the Gallagher Trucking Co. in Industry Saturday afternoon, halting plans by the firm to move the rigs carrying steel from Crucible Steel Co. Midland Division destined for Chicago.

About 30 State Policemen were on hand, along with local officers headed by Industry Police Chief Ray Hendershot.

Late in the afternoon Robert Gallagher, owner of the firm, said he would not move the rigs. The picketers remained at the site over Saturday night and Sunday morning, standing about a bonfire, with four troopers on standby.

State Police were at the site over Sunday night, but there were no pickets. Witnesses said, however, truckers were keeping watch on the firm from cars which passed by.

The Gallagher firm has been moving steel through this area under police and Highway Patrol escort for a few weeks. The firm was the scene of a shooting early Friday when William Gallagher, 17, of Industry, nephew of the owner, wounded Edward Stowers, 46, of Industry as the man was walking past the firm while the youth was on guard.

Grady Whiteleather of Sewickley, one of the striking drivers, said the truckers are "fighting for survival" and are the "stepchildren of the Teamsters Union." He said the men are picketing in an attempt to bring an "end to 20 years of abuse," and likened the drivers to the railroaders of the 1920's and steelworkers of the 1930's.

The votes of strikers in all states are being tabulated at Gary, Ind., and will be released late today by William Kusley, the trucker who started the walkout.

The strikers rejected the proposal by a 462-341 margin in Pittsburgh Sunday, hooting when warned that a thumbs down vote might result in a long, hard and possibly fruitless struggle.

"It is my personal opinion...that it would be a wise decision to accept the recommendations and to resume work as a unified group," Daniel Berger told some 800 strikers meeting in a Roman Catholic high school.

Berger, attorney for the strikers, said, "This contract would represent a tremendous victory that no one anticipated when the strike started many weeks ago."

The strikers apparently were upset over a remark made by William J. Hart, Pennsylvania secretary of labor, and dissatisfied with a key provision—the amount of time they must wait at mills before collecting penalty payment.

The proposal would give them $13.70 an hour after a four hour wait for loading or unloading. The strikers want only a two hour wait.

Berger told the strikers if they insisted that the wait-time be reduced to two hours "they (steel companies) will exert every pressure they can muster when this is placed before the Interstate Commerce Commission."

Steel companies have refused to comment on the strike.

Hart's summer home was wrecked Sunday by an explosion which buckled walls, blew out windows and shattered furniture. Hart had angered truckers with his warning they could stay out "until Hell freezes over" if they didn't accept the latest proposal, saying there wouldn't be a better offer.

Minerva police notified the Columbiana County Sheriff's Department at 11:27 p. m. Sunday they had arrested three truck drivers for fighting.

Cited were Jack Obney and Virgil Neel, both of Minerva, and Dean Moore, Minerva RD 3.

Police said Obney told them he found the tires on his tractor - trailer slashed at Green's Truck Stop near East Rochester.

Soviet Reported As Building Its First Aircraft Carrier

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice Adm. William E. Ellis has disclosed that the Soviet Union is building its first aircraft carrier, The New York Times said today.

The story from Norfolk, Va., said the disclosure was made Sunday by Ellis, chief of staff of the Supreme Allied Command, Atlantic, which has its headquarters in Norfolk.

The Times story also said in part:

The carrier, believed designed for launching helicopters rather than jets, is viewed as evidence that Soviet naval strategists, traditionally concerned almost exclusively with defense, are thinking more boldly of gaining the ability to extend military power far from Soviet shores.

Ellis said in an interview that the Russians have "the second largest and best navy in the world" and are moving up fast.

Since World War II, he said, they have built about 200 destroyers, 25 cruisers and more than 400 submarines.

"The Russians have really gone to sea," Ellis continued.

"They've never before felt the need for carriers contrasted to the United States or Britain because they didn't have many overseas commitments. Apparently their thinking is changing."

When Successor won the 1966 Garden State at Cherry Hill, N. J., his owners collected $188,475.

Soviet Reported As Building Its First Aircraft Carrier

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice Adm. William E. Ellis has disclosed that the Soviet Union is building its first aircraft carrier, The New York Times said today.

The story from Norfolk, Va., said the disclosure was made Sunday by Ellis, chief of staff of the Supreme Allied Command, Atlantic, which has its headquarters in Norfolk.

The Times story also said in part:

The carrier, believed designed for launching helicopters rather than jets, is viewed as evidence that Soviet naval strategists, traditionally concerned almost exclusively with defense, are thinking more boldly of gaining the ability to extend military power far from Soviet shores.

Ellis said in an interview that the Russians have "the second largest and best navy in the world" and are moving up fast.

Since World War II, he said, they have built about 200 destroyers, 25 cruisers and more than 400 submarines.

"The Russians have really gone to sea," Ellis continued.

"They've never before felt the need for carriers contrasted to the United States or Britain because they didn't have many overseas commitments. Apparently their thinking is changing."

Buildup For Thin Girls

All right thin girls, this week the dietitian will take nutrition and exercise from your angle to help you turn into a vital slim girl with curves in the right places. This is the special program for which you have been asking.

Ida Jean Kain

Try a whole new approach toward gaining. On the wrong food habits, the wrong pattern of eating and sedentary living, too much of your weight will be in fatty tissue. This is not a healthy state of nutrition. The new approach to healthy weight is directed toward the body composition. You can be overly fat even though you are underweight.

—:—

IT TAKES high quality calories to build a better body. The nutritionally important foods are divided into four groups — milk group, meat group, vegetable - fruit group and bread - cereal group. Plan your meals around these essential food groups. The nutrition rule to eat what you should first, then eat to please your palate, is excellent.

Build healthy tissue with the right pattern of eating. It isn't just fat you want to pile on. To lay down body protein and build strength and lean muscle tissue, eat three moderate meals a day, but do not overeat at any one meal.

When food is divided into easily - handled loads, the body can better assimilate the food and protein is synthesized into healthy tissue. Underweights with poor appetites tend to slight nourishing food during the day and then try to eat a fairly good dinner. This is not the way to utilize food efficiently, encourage appetite or form good food habits.

EAT A good breakfast — fruit or juice, cereal with milk, or an egg, plus toast made from high quality bread. Lack of appetite for the morning meal is largely habit. If you really want more bounce and verve, you'll make the time to start your day right.

Nourishing pickups between breakfast and lunch and between lunch and dinner is an excellent way to increase calories. The pickups should be in foods which are easily and quickly digested and should be taken mid - way between meals.

Have a glass of milk with a couple of graham crackers, or cocoamalt. A special food supplement, such as Meritene or Nutriment can be purchased at the drugstore. These nutrient boosters can be whipped into milk.

Eat an adequate lunch. Working girls, relax, skip noontime shopping. Homemakers, take time to eat a nourishing lunch. Have milk and a molasses cookie at the coffee break. Homemakers can enjoy cocoa made with milk and a slice of raisin bread toasted.

If you are a hard - working underweight, a rest before the evening meal will boost your chances of gaining. At any rate, relax when the work day is over. Let go with your mind and your muscles. Fatigue, which means a state of nervous excitement, can be back of your failure to add needed poundage.

How Can I?

Q. — What is a good way to warm up leftover meats?

A. — Place them in a pressure cooker, add three tablespoons of water, let the steam build up to the starting point, then remove from the fire, and let the pressure go down.

Q. — What can I do about grease stains on suede jackets, bags, hats, shoes and the like?

A. — Try sponging them with vinegar. Then, when, dry, restore the nap by brushing with a stiff - bristled brush.

Q. — What is a good formula for a whitewash for interior walls?

A. — Mix one pound of powdered glue with one gallon of water. Then mix 20 pounds of hydrated lime with two gallons of water, stirring carefully until all lumps are dissolved. Combine these two mixtures, and stir until smooth. Finally, thin with water to a suitable consistency.

FOODLAND GIVES AWAY ONE STAMP THIS WEEK!

How come? Because several Tri-State food chains (including Foodland) are all claiming "lowest prices". And that even confused us! Until we checked the totals. Any store can have "lower prices" on an item here and an item there—or even a whole group of items—and raise the prices on the rest to compensate. So the only true measure of "lower prices" is the total on your register tape.

Which brings us to our big free offer: If you've never shopped Foodland before, try us this week. Load up on the weekly groceries then see of the bottom line on your checkout tape isn't a darn sight lower than at the store you've been shopping.

Then, if you'll be so kind, write your report on a postcard available at any Foodland checkout. It's addressed to our headquarters—with a free stamp on it. And when Foodland gives away stamps (even one to a customer) you'd better run—not walk—to get yours!

Group Reverses, Allows Newsmen At Its Hearings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Development reversed itself today and permitted newsmen to cover hearings on location of an International Trade Mart in Ohio.

Without commenting on the reason for the switch, the department notified news media that reporters were welcome at hearings in the State Office Building starting at 9:30 a.m.

Last week, Glenn W. Allen, department co-ordinator, drew criticism of some newspapers after he said hearings would be closed "because newspapers would be prone to slant their thinking toward their own cities."

Akron and Lorain areas were the first scheduled to present their cases to the department in a bid to land the facility which will co-ordinate the state's import and export activities. Other cities are expected to bid for the center at later hearings.

A special advisory committee is hearing testimony. It will make a recommendation on location of the center to Gov. James A. Rhodes. The group also will make recommendations for financing the center for which no state funds have been provided.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: When I pack a suitcase, instead of folding my clothes, I lay them flat on the bed and cover them with a full plastic bag. Then they can either be rolled or folded for the trip. I find they are not wrinkled when I arrived at my destination.

SALESWOMAN.

And she's right. I tried it on my last two trips. It seems that the little bit of air which is trapped in the pastic bag prevents wrinkles!

Since your dress or suit usually comes back from the cleaner in a plastic bag and on a wire coat hanger, DON'T remove them when packing. Fold the garments into your suitcase — plastic bag, hanger and all! Then when you get to your destination, all you have to do is hang them up.

One more thing. Have you ever noticed how we usually take too many clothes on a trip? Well, since the clothes won't wrinkle in the plastic bags, anything you don't wear can be put back in your closet at home without pressing!

HELOISE.

LETTER OF TRUTH

DEAR HELOISE: I always give my occupation as "Domestic Engineer"!

MRS. ANNA JEAN AMBS
(MOTHER OF EIGHT).

DEAR HELOISE: I use a black felt marker to touch up small scratches on my black furniture.

Then all it takes is a swipe with my regular furniture polish, covers beautifully.

LINDA Z.

LISTEN GALS: Now is the time to start saving those papier-mache egg cartons for packing fragile Christmas presents. Tear off the tops and use the bottoms for cushioning. They weigh practically nothing and save on postage.

They can be cut into any size or shape, even wrapped around things and tied with string or a rubber band, or taped. Air is free! And look at those air pockets which we won't use postage on as they protect our gifts.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have a king-size bed and the price of a king-size electric blanket scares you, just get two single electric blankets. Place the edge of one over the other making sure the two edges overlap, and baste them together.

Then you have a blanket easy to take apart and wash, and it even has dual controls!

CLARE WILSON.

DEAR HELOISE: When planning treats for lively youngsters this coming Hallowe'en, why not try something different?

We've made those little eyes sparkle by giving them balloons, party favors and inexpensive ball point pens. Receiving a different treat occasionally makes that great night even more exciting.

Also, by scouting around the various shops, I sometines find these treats at a lower cost than the usual Hallowe'en candy.

MRS. ROBERT MORGAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's how I managed to wear some new bras that were too tight after a stay in the hospital.

Not wishing to use pins or to alter them (because I expected to lose a bit of weight), I ran a rubber band through the eyes of one side of a bra, then hooked each end of the band to a hook on the opposite side.

Plenty of give and quite comfortable.

GERTIE BELL.

MRS. HAROLD REED MAKES A TIMELY DEPOSIT

As you can see from her happy smile, Mrs. Reed of 1221 Parkview Drive, Wellsville, picked the right time to make a deposit in her Central Federal savings account. She's not only enjoying Central Federal's big 4½% dividend on her insured savings, she's taking home the magnificent grandfather's clock that was the grand prize during Central Federal's 75th anniversary celebration. We're only sorry every Central Federal customer couldn't take home the grand prize. But in a very real sense every Central Federal customer is a winner because you enjoy extra high dividends, an extra measure of safety from Central Federal's sound management and strong reserves, and an extra nice feeling of security that comes with steadily mounting savings that grow faster because they earn more. Any time is the right time to save at Central Federal of Wellsville.

3 Antitank Weapons Will Be Destroyed

DOVER, Ohio (AP) — Three plastic antitank weapons will be destroyed by military personnel after the FBI examines them, 1st Lt. Charles R. Carson Jr. said Sunday. The weapons were found Saturday about two miles north of here in the Tuscarawas River near the Dover Dam.

Lt. Carson said the weapons were fully loaded and ready to fire. Because they were wet, the fuses could smott and cause firing, he said.

The weapons — light and tank weapons (LAW)—are about one foot long and have to be telescoped out to about three feet in length for firing. Lt. Carson said he could not "say where or what supply depot they came from." A search for more of the weapons was called for.

Brazil Signs Tax Agreement With U.S.

CHICAGO (AP) — Brazil has become the first South American nation to sign a tax treaty with the United States.

The Brazilian - U.S. treaty brings to 22 the number of such agreements, Commerce Clearing House said.

The treaties protect taxpayers with international interests in countries where agreements are made against double taxation. Such treaties have existed since 1935 when France and the U.S. exchanged ratifications.

The principles involved hinge on the source of income, the taxpayer's nationality and his residence. The two nations agree that only one of them will serve as the taxing base.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: When I pack a suitcase, instead of folding my clothes, I lay them flat on the bed and cover them with a full plastic bag. Then they can either be rolled or folded for the trip. I find they are not wrinkled when I arrived at my destination.

SALESWOMAN.

And she's right. I tried it on my last two trips. It seems that the little bit of air which is trapped in the pastic bag prevents wrinkles!

Since your dress or suit usually comes back from the cleaner in a plastic bag and on a wire coat hanger, DON'T remove them when packing. Fold the garments into your suitcase — plastic bag, hanger and all! Then when you get to your destination, all you have to do is hang them up.

One more thing. Have you ever noticed how we usually take too many clothes on a trip? Well, since the clothes won't wrinkle in the plastic bags, anything you don't wear can be put back in your closet at home without pressing!

HELOISE.

LETTER OF TRUTH

DEAR HELOISE: I always give my occupation as "Domestic Engineer"!

MRS. ANNA JEAN AMBS
(MOTHER OF EIGHT).

DEAR HELOISE: I use a black felt marker to touch up small scratches on my black furniture.

Then all it takes is a swipe with my regular furniture polish, covers beautifully.

LINDA Z.

LISTEN GALS: Now is the time to start saving those papier-mache egg cartons for packing fragile Christmas presents. Tear off the tops and use the bottoms for cushioning. They weigh practically nothing and save on postage.

They can be cut into any size or shape, even wrapped around things and tied with string or a rubber band, or taped. Air is free! And look at those air pockets which we won't use postage on as they protect our gifts.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have a king-size bed and the price of a king-size electric blanket scares you, just get two single electric blankets. Place the edge of one over the other making sure the two edges overlap, and baste them together.

Then you have a blanket easy to take apart and wash, and it even has dual controls!

CLARE WILSON.

DEAR HELOISE: When planning treats for lively youngsters this coming Hallowe'en, why not try something different?

We've made those little eyes sparkle by giving them balloons, party favors and inexpensive ball point pens. Receiving a different treat occasionally makes that great night even more exciting.

Also, by scouting around the various shops, I sometines find these treats at a lower cost than the usual Hallowe'en candy.

MRS. ROBERT MORGAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's how I managed to wear some new bras that were too tight after a stay in the hospital.

Not wishing to use pins or to alter them (because I expected to lose a bit of weight), I ran a rubber band through the eyes of one side of a bra, then hooked each end of the band to a hook on the opposite side.

Plenty of give and quite comfortable.

GERTIE BELL.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

MRS. HAROLD REED MAKES A TIMELY DEPOSIT

As you can see from her happy smile, Mrs. Reed of 1221 Parkview Drive, Wellsville, picked the right time to make a deposit in her Central Federal savings account. She's not only enjoying Central Federal's big 4½% dividend on her insured savings, she's taking home the magnificent grandfather's clock that was the grand prize during Central Federal's 75th anniversary celebration. We're only sorry every Central Federal customer couldn't take home the grand prize. But in a very real sense every Central Federal customer is a winner because you enjoy extra high dividends, an extra measure of safety from Central Federal's sound management and strong reserves, and an extra nice feeling of security that comes with steadily mounting savings that grow faster because they earn more. Any time is the right time to save at Central Federal of Wellsville.

3 Antitank Weapons Will Be Destroyed

DOVER, Ohio (AP) — Three plastic antitank weapons will be destroyed by military personnel after the FBI examines them, 1st Lt. Charles R. Carson Jr. said Sunday. The weapons were found Saturday about two miles north of here in the Tuscarawas River near the Dover Dam.

Lt. Carson said the weapons were fully loaded and ready to fire. Because they were wet, the fuses could smott and cause firing, he said.

The weapons — light anti tank weapons (LAW)–are about one foot long and have to be telescoped out to about three feet in length for firing. Lt. Carson said he could not "say where or what supply depot they came from." A search for more of the weapons was called for.

Brazil Signs Tax Agreement With U.S.

CHICAGO (AP) — Brazil has become the first South American nation to sign a tax treaty with the United States.

The Brazilian - U.S. treaty brings to 22 the number of such agreements, Commerce Clearing House said.

The treaties protect taxpayers with international interests in countries where agreements are made against double taxation. Such treaties have existed since 1935 when France and the U.S. exchanged ratifications.

The principles involved hinge on the source of income, the taxpayer's nationality and his residence. The two nations agree that only one of them will serve as the taxing base.

4 Police Get Diplomas In Alliance Ceremony

Mayor George E. Willshaw, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Chief A. J. Radeschi attended a ceremony Saturday night in Alliance at which four newly - appointed East Liverpool officers received diplomas on completion of a 120-hour course.

The diplomas were given Patrolmen Homer Clyde Dillon, James W. Woods, Charles B. Coen and David L. Huffman following a dinner at the Caskey Motor Inn. They also received certificaets on completion of first aid training that was part of the course.

The classes were conducted for district officers at the Stark County Peace Officers School. The four patrolmen attended under an Ohio law that requires newly - appointed law enforcement officers to take a course in basic police techniques.

Betty Furness is to make her first visit to Ohio as special assistant to the President Johnson on consumer affairs. She will be keynote speaker at the session.

Republican Governors May Issue War Policy

ABOARD SS INDEPENDENCE (AP) — Republican governors, who blocked action on a Democratic resolution of support for the U.S. stand in Vietnam, may issue a war policy declaration of their own in December.

The declaration might be sounded when the Republican Governors' Association meets Dec. 8 and 9 at Palm Beach, Fla., said Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see it," Volpe said. "It would express support for our fighting men in Vietnam."

At the stormy windup of the 59th National Governors Conference, Volpe joined 17 other Republicans in voting to bar action on a resolution of war support. GOP governors contended the resolution was White-House inspired, politically motivated and not the proper business of a conference on state affairs.

Volpe, new chairman of the national conference, said he hopes Vietnam will not be debated again when the nation's governors convene in Cincinnati for their next meeting on July 30, 1968.

But Volpe said Republican governors meeting at Palm Beach could reaffirm support of Americans fighting in Vietnam without appearing to endorse the Johnson administration's conduct of the war.

The GOP governors caucusing aboard the Independence asked the Republican policy committee to draft platform planks for the 1968 convention expressing a moderate view on domestic issues and offering an alternative to Johnson's conduct of the war in Vietnam.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said preliminary drafts of the GOP platform might be available for the December Republican governors parley.

The governors also are demanding that one of their number share the chairmanship of the platform committee at the 1968 convention with Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill. Dirksen has been outspoken in support of Johnson's Vietnam policy.

Dirksen had no comment on the governors' demands.

Also aboard the Independence, the new governor's conference executive committee met and made plans for two overseas trips next year. In late January, 8 to 10 governors will go to Israel for a five- or seven-week visit as guests of the Israeli government. And in early April, 20 governors will begin a tour of Japan and the Orient.

Volpe said it is possible some governors on the Oriental trip will visit Vietnam, but he said any such stopover would be arranged through the White House. It has not been decided which governors will take the trips, Volpe added.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will throw his hat into the ring for the Republican presidential nomination around Jan. 15, Nixon associates aboard the Independence said. They said he plans to announce his candidacy after making appearances in four key presidential primary states: New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon.

Michigan Gov. George Romney has bought a half hour of national television time for Nov. 15 and said it is possible he might announce his candidacy on that broadcast.

Mayor Believes Ft. Steuben Span May Open Friday

STEUBENVILLE — There's a possibility the Ft. Steuben Bridge, closed for major repairs since Sept. 28, may reopen this Friday.

So says Mayor Andrew W. Miller, although Ohio Highway Department officials have set Nov. 4 as the proposed reopening date.

If opened Friday, completion would be three weeks ahead of schedule. Miller said the concrete deck work should be completed by early this week, followed by a three - day curing period. Then another two days would be required to add blacktopping.

Levi Kimball, deputy director of Division 11 of the Ohio Highway Department at New Philadelphia, and representatives of Conn Construction Co. of New Castle, Pa., however, set Nov. 4 as the reopening date, still two weeks ahead of the early predictions. Republican Governors May Issue War Policy

ABOARD SS INDEPENDENCE (AP) — Republican governors, who blocked action on a Democratic resolution of support for the U.S. stand in Vietnam, may issue a war policy declaration of their own in December.

The declaration might be sounded when the Republican Governors' Association meets Dec. 8 and 9 at Palm Beach, Fla., said Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see it," Volpe said. "It would express support for our fighting men in Vietnam."

At the stormy windup of the 59th National Governors Conference, Volpe joined 17 other Republicans in voting to bar action on a resolution of war support. GOP governors contended the resolution was White-House inspired, politically motivated and not the proper business of a conference on state affairs.

Volpe, new chairman of the national conference, said he hopes Vietnam will not be debated again when the nation's governors convene in Cincinnati for their next meeting on July 20, 1968.

But Volpe said Republican governors meeting at Palm Beach could reaffirm support of Americans fighting in Vietnam without appearing to endorse the Johnson administration's conduct of the war.

The GOP governors caucusing aboard the Independence asked the Republican policy committee to draft platform planks for the 1968 convention expressing a moderate view on domestic issues and offering an alternative to Johnson's conduct of the war in Vietnam.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said preliminary drafts of the GOP platform might be available for the December Republican governors parley.

The governors also are demanding that one of their number share the chairmanship of the platform committee at the 1968 convention with Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill. Dirksen has been outspoken in support of Johnson's Vietnam policy.

Dirksen had no comment on the governors' demands.

Also aboard the Independence, the new governor's conference executive committee met and made plans for two overseas trips next year. In late January, 8 to 10 governors will go to Israel for a five- or seven-week visit as guests of the Israeli government. And in early April, 20 governors will begin a tour of Japan and the Orient.

Volpe said it is possible some governors on the Oriental trip will visit Vietnam, but he said any such stopover would be arranged through the White House. It has not been decided which governors will take the trips, Volpe added.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will throw his hat into the ring for the Republican presidential nomination around Jan. 15, Nixon associates aboard the Independence said. They said he plans to announce his candidacy after making appearances in four key presidential primary states: New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon.

Michigan Gov. George Romney has bought a half hour of national television time for Nov. 15 and said it is possible he might announce his candidacy on that broadcast.

Mayor Believes Ft. Steuben Span May Open Friday

STEUBENVILLE — There's a possibility the Ft. Steuben Bridge, closed for major repairs since Sept. 28, may reopen this Friday.

So says Mayor Andrew W. Miller, although Ohio Highway Department officials have set Nov. 4 as the proposed reopening date.

If opened Friday, completion would be three weeks ahead of schedule. Miller said the concrete deck work should be completed by early this week, followed by a three - day curing period. Then another two days would be required to add blacktopping.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers? What's the responsibility of a host and hostess to guests who drink too much and then drive home?

It is not possible to monitor the alcoholic intake of guests to make sure they don't get plowed. Furthermore, it's next to impossible to get a drunk to admit he's in no shape to drive. I've seen drunks become belligerent and nasty when someone questions their ability to handle the wheel.

My husband and I had a party at our home recently and the last four couples to leave were so stoned they couldn't see straight. When they left I told my husband I was scared to death they would end up in the morgue. He said, "They'll be okay. Don't worry."

It so happened they made it all right, but if they had NOT made it, how much of the guilt would have been on our heads? Please tell us, Ann Landers, what's the solution to this ever-growing social problem? ACCESSORY TO THE MURDER?

Dear Party: If those drunks had NOT made it home, or, worse yet, if they had rammed into some innocent people, you would, in my opinion, be guilty of plenty.

One thing a host and hostess can do to prevent such tragedies is to cut the liquor off and send people home BEFORE they get so cockeyed they're a menace to society. Don't tell me it can't be done because I've done it in my home and I'll continue to do it — and anyone who doesn't like my brand of hospitality doesn't have to come back.

Guests who become suddenly drunk should be driven home by a sober guest, or sent home in a taxi. Anyone who knowingly allows a drunk to drive himself anywhere must share in the blame for whatever happens.

Saw The Light

Dear Ann: I used to hate it when you handed out advice against going steady. I thought you were a square old bag and I even wrote once to blast you. Well, I'm writing again — this time to apologize.

I'm a 15-year-old girl who just broke up with a boy 17. We started to go steady last January. I was in heaven for about five weeks, and then I began to worry because we seemed to go a little further every time we got together.

One day I asked what he would do if I got pregnant. He said, "Any girl who is dumb enough to get pregnant in this day and age deserves to figure a way out by herself."

That statement really shook me up. I told him he was absolutely right and I wasn't going to wait until I got into that fix because we were parting company then and there.

That was three months ago and I've never been so happy in my life. What a rockhead I was to think I needed a steady for social security! I have plenty of dates and I'm having a ball. My mother and I get along better, too. We used to argue a lot because she didn't approve of my going steady either.

I'd like to tell all teen-agers who think going steady is boss that they are kidding themselves. — BEEN THERE.

-:-

Dear Been: Thanks for another testimonial. Your lesson was relatively inexpensive. Most of the teen-agers who write as you did had to pay a high price for their education.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

School Issues To Be Sifted At Forum On Tuesday Night

East Liverpool's nine Board of Education candidates will have an opportunity to present their views on school issues during a "Town Meeting" Tuesday at 7:30 at Westgate Auditorium.

The public forum is being sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees.

Alfred S. Fricano, chairman, said each candidate has been invited to give a self resume, including personal history, quaifications and platform.

Rod Baum will serve as moderator. Each candidate has been sent an outline of how the forum will be conducted.

Each candidate will be called upon to answer one of nine questions, Fricano said, with the others being given the opportunity to offer comments.

No questions will be accepted from the audience, Fricano said, pointing out the public had the opportunity to submit questions by mail.

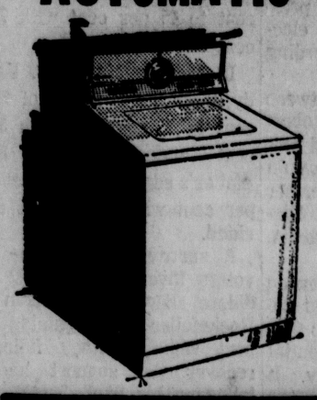

The questions follow:

What do you feel are the duties and responsibilities of a board member: What do you attribute to the failure of the school levy: Do you think that the financial problems of the school system can be solved without additional tax dollars: If additional revenue is needed to operate the schools, how do you feel it should be presented to the public in order to gain public support:

Do you feel that the board has had bad public relations in the past? If your answer is yes, how can they be improved? If no, your reasons why. What would you suggest is the best policy for obtaining and-or maintaining qualified schoolteachers and administrators for the system? What is your opinion of the quality and quantity of teacher aides and materials being used in the system? What extra-curricular activities should be emphasized, and to what degree? And, other than by voting in a new tax levy, how do you think the public can best help the board improve the system?

House To Be Widely Varied

Weary Tabulators Sort Winners In Viet Voting

SAIGON (AP) — Weary tabulators continued to sort winners today from among 1,200 candidates for South Vietnam's House of Representatives and the only assurance with two thirds of the 137 seats decided was that the body would be widely varied.

More than 24 hours after the polls closed on the quietest election the nation has experienced in the past 13 months, about 45 seats were still in doubt.

The candidates assured of victory in Sunday's voting ranged from government supporters to some thinly diguised neutralists. It remained impossible to assess the political complexion of the assembly.

Officials said that the final unofficial tallies should be available by tonight, except for some from remote provinces.

The known returns insured that the government of President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu, who will be inaugurated Oct. 31, will have to deal with both a House and a Senate of varied political hues.

The 60-man Senate elected last month divided more or less along opposition, progovernment and independent lines. The House promises to split into even more groups.

Outwardly this would make Thieu's prospects a bit gloomy. However, much horse trading remains to be done before the new constitutional institutions shake down.

In addition, under the constitution, Thieu retains for the first presidential term some wide powers—such as the naming of province chiefs. These were granted to placate the military and insure that the prosecution of the war was not overly restricted by bickering legislators.

South Vietnamese officials and the U.S. Embassy were generally content with the turnout—72.9 per cent of the nation's 5.8 million registered voters.

While this fell well below the 83 per cent in September's presidential election it was considered a respectable figure in a wartorn nation with the Communist guerrillas threatening terror at the polling places.

The threatened terror largely failed to materialize.

Official government figures said six South Vietnamese soldiers and six civilians died in terrorists incidents on election day, a sharp contrast with September when the Communists killed 200 people in the period during and immediately preceeding the voting.

Heart Group To Take Part In U.S. Event

The Heart Association of Eastern Ohio, comprised of Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull Counties, will be represented when the 18th annual meeting of the Society of Heart Association professional Staff convenes in San Francisco Tuesday.

Attending from eastern Ohio will be John S. (Jack) Andrews, honorary life member and chairman of the board of the Ohio State Heart Association; Dr. William H. Bunn Jr., president of the Heart Association of Eastern Ohio; Mrs. Harry Price, executive director; Mrs. Gordon Brooks, field representative for Trumbull County, and Mrs. Richard Violand, field representative, Columbiana County.

Scheduled at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel, the two-and-a-half day enclave will feature four professional paper presentations, discussions in the areas of staff training and consultation and the annual business meeting.

The keynote address on "Career Development Concepts" will be given by Robert J. Boroughs, manager of management-development for the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash.

More than 5,000 physicians and delegates are expected to converge on the "Golden Gate" city since the 40th scientific sessions of the American Heart Association and a clinical nursing Conference will precede the professional staff convention.

Hearings Set In Hancock's Latest Raid

Hearings have been set for Wednesday as the aftermath of a raid by sheriff's deputies in Hancock County Saturday night.

Authorities arrested two men and charged them with operating gaming devices and confiscated a quantity of money and equipment during a raid on the Half-Moon Lounge on Route 30, a part of the "Strip" area.

The arrests occurred about 11:45.

Charged are Ronald Lee Gunn, 21, of Burgettstown and John Edward Gills, 61, of Route 30, Chester RD. They will have hearings Wednesday at 10 p.m. before Squiare John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

The men posted $107 bond each when they were taken before Herron immediately after the raid.

Confiscated by deputies were a poker table, blackjack table, seven chairs, a quantity of money and four decks of cards.

The owner of the establishment was not identified.

Spanish and Portuguese are the two languages most prevalent in South America.

Golden Age Club Conducting Sale

Final plans were made for a rummage sale during the Friday afternoon meeting of the Golden Age Club of Chester and vicinity.

The sale is being held this week in the Ewing Building from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Fall and winter activities were discussed, birthdays recognized and Gilbert Collins of Chester enrolled as a member.

Women worked on arts and crafts to be sold at the rummage sale and until Christmas to raise money for club projects.

Floral arrangements were awarded Mrs. Elizabeth Mader and Edward W. Urie of Wellsville, a guest.

Lester Lutton was in charge.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Elsie Wine, Miss Eva Shaw and Mrs. Twyla Mercer.

The next meeting will be Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Alabama's freshman football team includes Jim Porter, a 240-pound 6-3 tackle from Birmingham.

Center Homemakers Briefed On Meeting

LISBON — Mrs. Thomas Wetzel spoke when Center Township Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Frank Murray of Lisbon RD 4.

Mrs. Wetzel reported on a regional homemakers' meeting Oct. 18 at Tailmadge.

The township women discussed their part in the annual Christmas - at - Home tea Nov. 1-2 at the Lisbon Methodist Church. Mrs. Homer Williard will be hostess Nov. 22.

Tag Days Conducted For Team Uniforms

The Midland Hot Stove League is conducting tag days today and Tuesday to raise money for uniforms.

Patrolman David Jakes, coach, said the league must raise enough for nine more uniforms.

American Legion Posts 481 and 533 each donated six uniforms at $28 each and the Elks Lodge gave $25 toward the purchase of one uniform.

If Election Was Held Today

LBJ Would Lose To Three Republicans, Poll Shows

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson would be unable to defeat the leading three Republicans mentioned as presidential candidates if any election was held today, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

The poll, conducted between Oct. 6-11, found that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., would fare better than Johnson but would not be able to defeat former Vice President Richard M. Nixon or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Pollsters asked the following question of 1,585 persons in 320 localities across the nation:

"Suppose the presidential election were held today. If (candidate's name) were the Democratic candidate and (candidate's name) were the Republican candidate, which would you like to see win?"

A Nixon-Johnson race showed 49 per cent for Nixon, 45 per cent for the President and 6 per cent undecided. It was the first time that Nixon has shown greater strength than Johnson in the Gallup Poll.

Despite his insistence that he is not a candidate, Rockefeller holds an even wider lead over the President—54 per cent to 40 per cent with 6 per cent undecided.

The latest poll also showed Gov. George Romney of Michigan defeating Johnson, 48 per cent to 45 per cent with 7 per cent undecided.

In races against Sen. Kennedy, Nixon holds a lead of 48 per cent to 47 per cent with 5 per cent undecided and Rockefeller's edge is 47 per cent to 46 per cent with 7 per cent undecided.

A survey to determine who voters favor as the GOP candidate showed that Nixon and Rockefeller were gaining support while Romney failed to recover the support he lost following his Sept. 5 statement about having been "brainwashed" by the Johnson administration on Vietnam.

Nixon's percentage was 42 per cent, compared with 40 in late September and 35 in early September. Rockefeller's figures were 18, 17, and 4 per cent. Romney's dropped from 24 per cent in early September to 14 per cent late in the month and 13 per cent at present.

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, who went from 11 per cent in early September to 16 per cent later in the month, now shows 14 per cent.

3 Polar Fliers Awaiting Rescue In Yukon Wilds

INUVIK, N.W.T. (AP) — Snug in parachuted gear, three polar fliers today awaited rescue after being missing since their plane went down Oct. 13 in the Yukon wilds.

The three are pilot Thor Tjontveit, 30, Fairbanks, Alaska; Rolf Storhavg, 30, Oslo, Norway, and Einar Pedersen, 48, chief navigator for Scandinavian Airlines System. They disappeared on a flight from Fairbanks to Inuvik.

A search pilot spotted them Sunday, walking near their downed plane in the Blow River Valley 90 miles southwest of Inuvik.

A rescue party, including the wife of one of the downed fliers, flew over later and dropped a radio, sleeping bags, food and medical equipment.

The airmen radioed they were unharmed except for a few bruises, so rescue efforts were suspended until a helicopter could reach the scene.

They had pitched a tent in a grove of trees near where their plane lay with apparently damaged wings.

'Support Police,' Jones Declares

BECKLEY, W. Va. — "The sad truth of the matter is our Supreme Court has created so many legal loopholes in the enforcement of criminal law that if you commit a murder there is less than one chance in a 100 that you will ever be executed for it. You as a peaceful citizen are 10 times as liable to die from cancer as you would be to be electrocuted if you shot a man," the 6th District Conference of the American Legion, Department of West Virginia, was told Sunday.

The speaker was John A. Jones, of Weirton, state commander of West Virginia's 25,000 Legionnaires.

Jones said that police officers, "who have the arduous task of enforcing the law under the most trying conditions and in a maze of legal technicalities," need the full support of law-abiding citizens in every community in West Virginia.

"If we are to have community peace, we must support our police," he continued. "We must support our police and re-establish respect for the great traditions on which America was founded. It is one thing for Americans to express their differences of opinion by honest debate and sincere dissent, but it is quite another to show disrespect and do dishonor to what America stands for and to the American system of law and order."

Restrictions Caused More Losses

Retired General Blasts Viet Bombing Limitation

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general charges that target restrictions in the air war against North Vietnam caused "more pilot and airplane losses."

The bitter criticism of past bombing limitation came from retired Maj. Gen. Gilbert E. Myers, who ended 30 years of military service as deputy commander of the 7th Air Force. He served 15 months in Vietnam.

He told the Senate preparedness subcommittee in testimony released today that many pilots were killed because of heavy restrictions imposed from Washington on bombing missions in North Vietnam.

"I felt that we were literally fighting with one hand tied behind our backs, that we could have been much more effective had we been able to pick more lucrative targets that existed in North Vietnam, that this would have had a much greater impact on the enemy and his ability to carry on the war in the South," Myers told the subcommittee Aug. 29.

Myers said that initially only one or two fixed targets were released at a time because "they were all approved at the Washington level."

"The existing practice of doling out the targets one, two and three at a time is too restrictive and results in more pilot and airplane losses," he said.

"Obviously the most effective, most remunerative targets in North Vietnam were not struck," he said.

He was the final witness before the panel, which previously recommended increased and more effective use of available air power against North Vietnam.

In other heavily censored testimony released today, Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, said the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously recommended two years ago "as heavy a blow as possible" against important military targets in North Vietnam.

"This view was not supported," he testified. "Therefore we supported the gradual approach that has been used since then."

Gen. Wallace M. Greene, commandant of the Marine Corps, testified he advocated "more effective bombing and I am also advocating more bombing if that is necessary."

"I have advocated the rapid and heavy application of air power to targets in North Vietnam as well as in South Vietnam, wherever they might be found," Greene said.

When the subcommittee issued its recommendations Aug. 31 it said the top generals favored more bombing.

Both ground force generals disagreed with earlier testimony by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who said even the Joint Chiefs admitted some of the targets they recommended—but were not authorized to bomb—were insignificant.

McNamara said only a few of several hundred bombing targets asked by the military had not been authorized.

Individually some of these might seem unimportant, Gens. Greene and Johnson said, but as a package they called them important to the over-all military mission.

Worker Foils Burglary Try At Elks Lodge

A night custodian at the Elks Lodge on W. 5th St. frightened away two burglars early Sunday morning after they had forced entry to the building and were attempting to break through a door leading to the downstairs grill room, police reported.

The two unidentified men fled after the noise of their attempt to break through the door attracted Robert Richard, the custodian, police said. They left behind a crowbar, a pry bar and a heavy duty screw driver, officers said. Patrolman Jack Strobel made the investigation.

The burglary attempt was timed at 4:48 a. m. Police said the two men gained entry to the building by prying open a large window on the east side of the structure, giving them access to the ballroom. Then they went down a flight of steps and were attempting to pry open the door to the grill room, officers said. The men spotted Richards approaching. They ran out a side entrance and fled toward W. 5th St., officers said.

Strobel said he found a 32-inch crowbar, an 18-inch pry-bar and a long screwdriver left behind by the would - be burglars.

Meanwhile, Milton Reese of 6½ Thompson Pl. told police Saturday night tools valued at $50 and $60 were stolen from the cellar at his home while he was hospitalized between Sept. 15 and Saturday.

Reese told officers the loss included a ⅝-inch electric drill worth $39, socket wrenches, pliers, screw drivers and miscellaneous tools.

Theodore Gregory of 1005 St. Clair Ave. told officers Sunday night a 3-x-3-foot window was removed from the east side of a building at 311 Moore St., which he owns. He said the building was entered, but apparently nothing was taken.

Out Of The Air

Good Acting Missing From TV

One reason so many TV shows look the same is that so much of the acting in them is the same. Most of the young actors on TV today read their lines without feeling. "Play it cool" seems to be their attitude. As a result, it all lacks style, unless you call it style to play everything down.

Hal Humphrey

I was asking Jose Ferrer about this. Now here is an actor with real style. Tuesday he plays the Baghdad poet-beggar in ABC's 90-minute special, "Kismet" (Channel 4 at 9:30). He would love to do more TV, but the market for genuine actors, it seems, is more and more limited in that medium.

-:-

"THIS SAMENESS in the acting you see on TV comes, I think, from an overemphasis on what producers believe is realism. The actors and the directors have decided this is the way people talk and act in real life.

"Of course they don't, and you can't copy real life anyway. What is on TV now is an imitation realism," says Ferrer.

"Good actors give you the illusion of reality, but actually it is what they give of themselves to the role that makes it," he adds.

"Take Ray Burr, Loren Greene, of Lee Marvin. They always appear to be playing it for real, but they aren't. If I could paint a tree that looked exactly like a tree, why have such a painting? It might be a monument to my industry, but certainly not to creativity."

-:-

FERRER doesn't know, or wouldn't venture an opinion, on how this "realism" acting got started. I suggested it might be from the acting schools which seem to be flourishing more and more.

"I hestitate to say," Ferrer replies. "I already have a reputation for being a megalomaniac who thinks he knows everything. I never went to dramatic class except three or four times, after which I decided it was a place where everyone was just having a good time showing off. I learned acting by acting and watching other actors."

Ferrer's role in the ABC "Kismet" was the result of producer Norman Rosemont's seeing him in the national company of "Man From La Mancha." Both are singing roles, which amuses Ferrer.

"WHEN I WENT to ask for the lead in 'Man From LaMancha' road company, they worried that I didn't sing well enough. They were right, but after a 30-day wait I got it."

"Jose Ferrer brings something to his role of Haji in 'Kismet' besides the singing," says producer Rosemont after being asked why he didn't get a real singer like Alfred Drake or Howard Keel who did the Broadway and movie versions of the musical.

The TV production of "Kismet" was taped two weeks ago, but Ferrer has passed up a couple of opportunities to see it in advance — says he suffers too much when watching himself perform. This is the first TV he has done since appearing a couple of very funny Danny Kaye shows two or three seasons ago.

—:—

"ABOUT every two years I make a movie, but nothing happens afterward," says Ferrer, dejectedly. "There seems to be a kind of intramural snobbism among the different media.

"You can be a hit on Broadway, but when Hollywood buys the vehicle for movies, somebody else is chosen usually. It happend to Julie Andrews with 'My Fair Lady.'

"I did get to do 'Cyrano' in the movie after being in the stage production, but my first hit on Broadway was in 'Brother Rat' with Eddie Albert and Frank Albertson, and who do you suppose did my part in the movie? Our governor, Ronnie Reagan."

-:-

NO, HE'S NOT going into politics as a result of that turn of events. Instead, Ferrer headed back to New York City last week with the hope he can find a Broadway musical to do.

"My agent says, 'Jose, you're not hot.' I could have told him that. I feel sorry for the poor bum. Once a year I see him, so he has to make his money somewhere else," says Ferrer.

He may have to enroll in a school for TV actors.

Ends Somtimes-Violent Wekend Rally

Last Of War Protestors Hauled Out Of Pentagon

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. marshals hauled a last-stand group of Vietnam war protesters from Pentagon grounds early today, ending a sometimes-violent weekend rally and march on the troop-surrounded military nerve center of the nation.

Sponsors hailed the demonstration as the birth of a new peace movement.

Thousands participated. Hundreds were arrested. Dozens were injured. And a few got inside the huge five-sided building.

Dave Dellinger, chief organizer of the march, declared those who oppose the war now have shifted "from simple dissent to resistance."

On a plaza-like area just outside the Pentagon's mall entrance a hard-core band of dissenters—some bearded, some shaggy haired, some wearing trinkets of the hippie cult, some rather normal college types—resisted to the last.

At midnight Sunday, when their permit to stage a "nonviolent" demonstration expired, marshals armed with night sticks and pistols and aided by military police carried the protesters to Army vans. The Defense Department said 208 were hauled to a fedaral detention center at Occoquan, Va., where most of the 439 persons arrested earlier had been taken.

As the midnight deadline approached, an Army colonel seated in a jeep repeatedly broadcast to the demonstrators a warning that those "who do not leave voluntarily by midnight will be arrested."

Officials estimated there were 2,000 troops on hand for the cleanup arrests. Before the operation Army Chief of Staff Harold K. Johnson personally conferred with unit commanders.

After the last demonstrator departed, there was a moment of silence and then a wave of cheering from the troops. The marshals then applauded the soldiers.

Some of the soldiers were to remain on duty through the night.

Left behind on the lawn and asphalt parking area of the Pentagon's mall entrance was a janitor's nightmare of scattered debris including beer cans, newspapers and piles of ashes from weekend campfires.

Trucks equipped with giant vaccuums sucked up most of the trash. But painted slogans, scrawled on Pentagon masonry, remained as telltale signs of the brief occupation.

A few points of dispute also lingered.

Prof. Thompson Bradley of Swarthmore College, a demonstration leader, charged federal marshals and Army officers beat and kicked demonstrators outside the Pentagon at the height of action Saturday. The Pentagon maintained that government personnel used the minimum force necessary in repelling charges on the building.

Some demonstrators claimed troops fired two or three tear gas grenades at them. Defense officials said the protesters did it themselves. The Washington Post and Washington Star each said reporters saw troops use the gas.

"Isn't that hysterical," a youth draped with a Navajo blanket cried into a bullhorn microphone to MP's guarding the demonstrators. "Where the hell would we get tear gas?" The group laughed and cheered.

Demonstrators also claimed some of the 2,500 troops deployed in and around the Pentagon defected to their side.

The Pentagon denied there were any defections but said Army Pvt. Terry V. Miller, 22, was arrested for disorderly conduct near the building early Sunday. Officials said Miller, not in uniform, was on a weekend pass from Ft. Dix, N.J.

Dellinger, head of the sponsoring organization called the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, also was arrested, along with author Norman Mailer.

Dellinger was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail, with the sentence suspended on condition he not return to the Pentagon. Mailer drew a $50 fine and a 30-day sentence, 25 of which were suspended. He was freed on an appeal bond.

Government estimates of the crowd which surged from a rally at the Lincoln Memorial toward the Pentagon Saturday at 30,000 to 35,000. Dellinger claimed 150,000 persons participated.

Sunday's confrontation between demonstrators and troops guarding the Pentagon lacked the tension that marked Saturday's activities, which began with a mass meeting at Lincoln Memorial and included a two-mile trek across the Potomac River to the Pentagon.

In a sort of war of attrition, U.S. marshals quietly arrested over-zealous protesters one-by-one most of Sunday morning. Arrests were spaced several minutes apart in an effort to avoid trouble. The youths offered virtually no resistance as they were carried from their sit-in area 200 or 300 feet from the tall oak doors of the Pentagon mall entrance.

By midafternoon, the demonstrators ruled out an attempt to crash the ranks of armed MPs but decided to conduct a "teach-in" for their captive audience—the MPs.

One by one, they arose—a girl with a flower in her hair, a young man who claimed he once was a Green Beret, a military-dressed comic who called himself Gen. Hershey Bar—to broadcast their philosophies at the rigid MPs.

One man deplored the fact that "the largest office building in the world (the Pentagon) is devoted to war."

Another said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ought to go to Vietnam. "Let him fight. It's his war. Let him do it."

A 16-year-old girl said with a smile: "That marshal over there—he looks just like my grandfather with his hat off."

Despite their running, one-sided debate, the group could muster only about 800 persons Sunday afternoon, according to a government estimate. By nightfall this had dwindled to 300 or fewer.

U.N. Council Aims At Plan On Mideast

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Efforts continued today to work out a settlement of issues left by the Arab-Israeli war but there was fear they might be hampered by tension over Egypt's sinking of an Israeli destroyer.

The 10 nonpermanent members of the U.N. Security Council planned a meeting aimed at drafting an acceptable proposal for first steps toward a settlement so the full 15-nation council could meet on the issue Thursday.

Some diplomats said those delegations already had the agreement of the big powers—the permanent members—to the broad outlines of such a resolution, but were not yet sure they could resolve Arab-Israeli differences over it.

Those informants said the nonpermanent members were thinking about a resolution to have Israel withdraw from Egypt, Jordan and Syria, have the Arabs drop their belligerency against Israel, and have Secretary-General U Thant send a U.N. representative to deal with both sides in the Middle East.

The sources said the most troublesome issue was what the special representative's instructions should be. They said the Israelis wanted him to bring the two sides into peace negotiations and the Arabs wanted him to be a proxy through which mutual concessions might be made.

Commissions could be purchased in the British army as late as 1871.

The trend is clear!

More than 3 million American homes are heated electrically. The Federal Power Commission forecasts 19 million families will convert to or build electrically heated homes within just 12 years! Why?

Ben Franklin's stoves sold like hotcakes because they were more efficient than an open fire. The pot bellied stove was replaced by central heating systems. Today's big home-heating trend is another vast improvement . . . flameless electric . . . because it offers such a wide choice of systems and so many more advantages that it makes other methods of heating seem clumsy and old-fashioned. More convenient, more comfortable, more versatile, electric heat gives you more for your money. And you can enjoy it now, in your present house. Any home can be converted to clean electric heat, easily and economically. Let us prove it. Call us . . . or mail this coupon.

Good Acting Missing From TV

One reason so many TV shows look the same is that so much of the acting in them is the same. Most of the young actors on TV today read their lines without feeling. "Play it cool" seems to be their attitude. As a result, it all lacks style, unless you call it style to play everything down.

Hal Humphrey

I was asking Jose Ferrer about this. Now here is an actor with real style. Tuesday he plays the Baghdad poet-beggar in ABC's 90-minute special, "Kismet" (Channel 4 at 9:30). He would love to do more TV, but the market for genuine actors, it seems, is more and more limited in that medium.

-:-

"THIS SAMENESS in the acting you see on TV comes, I think, from an overemphasis on what producers believe is realism. The actors and the directors have decided this is the way people talk and act in real life.

"Of course they don't, and you can't copy real life anyway. What is on TV now is an imitation realism," says Ferrer.

"Good actors give you the illusion of reality, but actually it is what they give of themselves to the role that makes it," he adds.

"Take Ray Burr, Loren Greene, of Lee Marvin. They always appear to be playing it for real, but they aren't. If I could paint a tree that looked exactly like a tree, why have such a painting? It might be a monument to my industry, but certainly not to creativity."

-:-

FERRER doesn't know, or wouldn't venture an opinion, on how this "realism" acting got started. I suggested it might be from the acting schools which seem to be flourishing more and more.

"I hesitate to say," Ferrer replies. "I already have a reputation for being a megalomaniac who thinks he knows everything. I never went to dramatic class except three or four times, after which I decided it was a place where everyone was just having a good time showing off. I learned acting by acting and watching other actors."

Ferrer's role in the ABC "Kismet" was the result of producer Norman Rosemont's seeing him in the national company of "Man From La Mancha." Both are singing roles, which amuses Ferrer.

"WHEN I WENT to ask for the lead in 'Man From LaMancha' road company, they worried that I didn't sing well enough. They were right, but after a 30-day wait I got it."

"Jose Ferrer brings something to his role of Haji in 'Kismet' besides the singing," says producer Rosemont after being asked why he didn't get a real singer like Alfred Drake or Howard Keel who did the Broadway and movie versions of the musical.

The TV production of "Kismet" was taped two weeks ago, but Ferrer has passed up a couple of opportunities to see it in advance — says he suffers too much when watching himself perform. This is the first TV he has done since appearing a couple of very funny Danny Kaye shows two or three seasons ago.

—:—

"ABOUT every two years I make a movie, but nothing happens afterward," says Ferrer, dejectedly. "There seems to be a kind of intramural snobbism among the different media.

"You can be a hit on Broadway, but when Hollywood buys the vehicle for movies, somebody else is chosen usually. It happend to Julie Andrews with 'My Fair Lady.'

"I did get to do 'Cyrano' in the movie after being in the stage production, but my first hit on Broadway was in 'Brother Rat' with Eddie Albert and Frank Albertson, and who do you suppose did my part in the movie? Our governor, Ronnie Reagan."

-:-

NO, HE'S NOT going into politics as a result of that turn of events. Instead, Ferrer headed back to New York City last week with the hope he can find a Broadway musical to do.

"My agent says, 'Jose, you're not hot.' I could have told him that. I feel sorry for the poor bum. Once a year I see him, so he has to make his money somewhere else," says Ferrer.

He may have to enroll in a school for TV actors.

Last Of War Protestors Hauled Out Of Pentagon

After the last demonstrator departed, there was a moment of silence and then a wave of cheering from the troops. The marshals then applauded the soldiers.

Some of the soldiers were to remain on duty through the night.

Left behind on the lawn and asphalt parking area of the Pentagon's mall entrance was a janitor's nightmare of scattered debris including beer cans, newspapers and piles of ashes from weekend campfires.

Trucks equipped with giant vaccuums sucked up most of the trash. But painted slogans, scrawled on Pentagon masonry, remained as telltale signs of the brief occupation.

A few points of dispute also lingered.

Prof. Thompson Bradley of Swarthmore College, a demonstration leader, charged federal marshals and Army officers beat and kicked demonstrators outside the Pentagon at the height of action Saturday. The Pentagon maintained that government personnel used the minimum force necessary in repelling charges on the building.

Some demonstrators claimed troops fired two or three tear gas grenades at them. Defense officials said the protesters did it themselves. The Washington Post and Washington Star each said reporters saw troops use the gas.

"Isn't that hysterical," a youth draped with a Navajo blanket cried into a bullhorn microphone to MP's guarding the demonstrators. "Where the hell would we get tear gas?" The group laughed and cheered.

Demonstrators also claimed some of the 2,500 troops deployed in and around the Pentagon defected to their side.

The Pentagon denied there were any defections but said Army Pvt. Terry V. Miller, 23, was arrested for disorderly conduct near the building early Sunday. Officials said Miller, not in uniform, was on a weekend pass from Ft. Dix, N.J.

Dellinger, head of the sponsoring organization called the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, also was arrested, along with author Norman Mailer.

Dellinger was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail, with the sentence suspended on condition he not return to the Pentagon. Mailer drew a $50 fine and a 30-day sentence, 25 of which were suspended. He was freed on an appeal bond.

Government estimates of the crowd which surged from a rally at the Lincoln Memorial toward the Pentagon Saturday at 30,000 to 35,000. Dellinger claimed 150,000 persons participated.

Sunday's confrontation between demonstrators and troops guarding the Pentagon lacked the tension that marked Saturday's activities, which began with a mass meeting at Lincoln Memorial and included a two-mile trek across the Potomac River to the Pentagon.

In a sort of war of attrition, U.S. marshals quietly arrested over-zealous protesters one-by-one most of Sunday morning. Arrests were spaced several minutes apart in an effort to avoid trouble. The youths offered virtually no resistance as they were carried from their sit-in area 200 or 300 feet from the tall oak doors of the Pentagon mall entrance.

By midafternoon, the demonstrators ruled out an attempt to crash the ranks of armed MPs but decided to conduct a "teach-in" for their captive audience—the MPs.

One by one, they arose—a girl with a flower in her hair, a young man who claimed he once was a Green Beret, a military-dressed comic who called himself Gen. Hershey Bar—to broadcast their philosophies at the rigid MPs.

One man deplored the fact that "the largest office building in the world (the Pentagon) is devoted to war."

Another said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ought to go to Vietnam. "Let him fight. It's his war. Let him do it."

A 16-year-old girl said with a smile: "That marshal over there—he looks just like my grandfather with his hat off."

Despite their running, one-sided debate, the group could muster only about 800 persons Sunday afternoon, according to a government estimate. By nightfall this had dwindled to 300 or fewer.

U.N. Council Aims At Plan On Mideast

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Efforts continued today to work out a settlement of issues left by the Arab-Israeli war but there was fear they might be hampered by tension over Egypt's sinking of an Israeli destroyer.

The 10 nonpermanent members of the U.N. Security Council planned a meeting aimed at drafting an acceptable proposal for first steps toward a settlement so the full 15-nation council could meet on the issue Thursday.

Some diplomats said those delegations already had the agreement of the big powers—the permanent members—to the broad outlines of such a resolution, but were not yet sure they could resolve Arab-Israeli differences over it.

Those informants said the nonpermanent members were thinking about a resolution to have Israel withdraw from Egypt, Jordan and Syria, have the Arabs drop their belligerency against Israel, and have Secretary-General U Thant send a U.N. representative to deal with both sides in the Middle East.

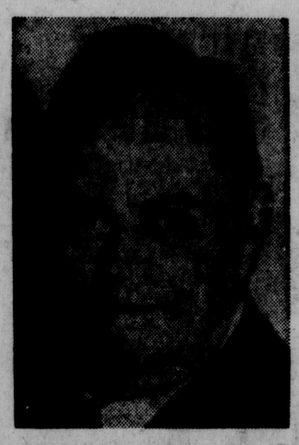

The sources said the most troublesome issue was what the special representative's instructions should be. They said the Israelis wanted him to bring the two sides into peace negotiations and the Arabs wanted him to be a proxy through which mutual concessions might be made.

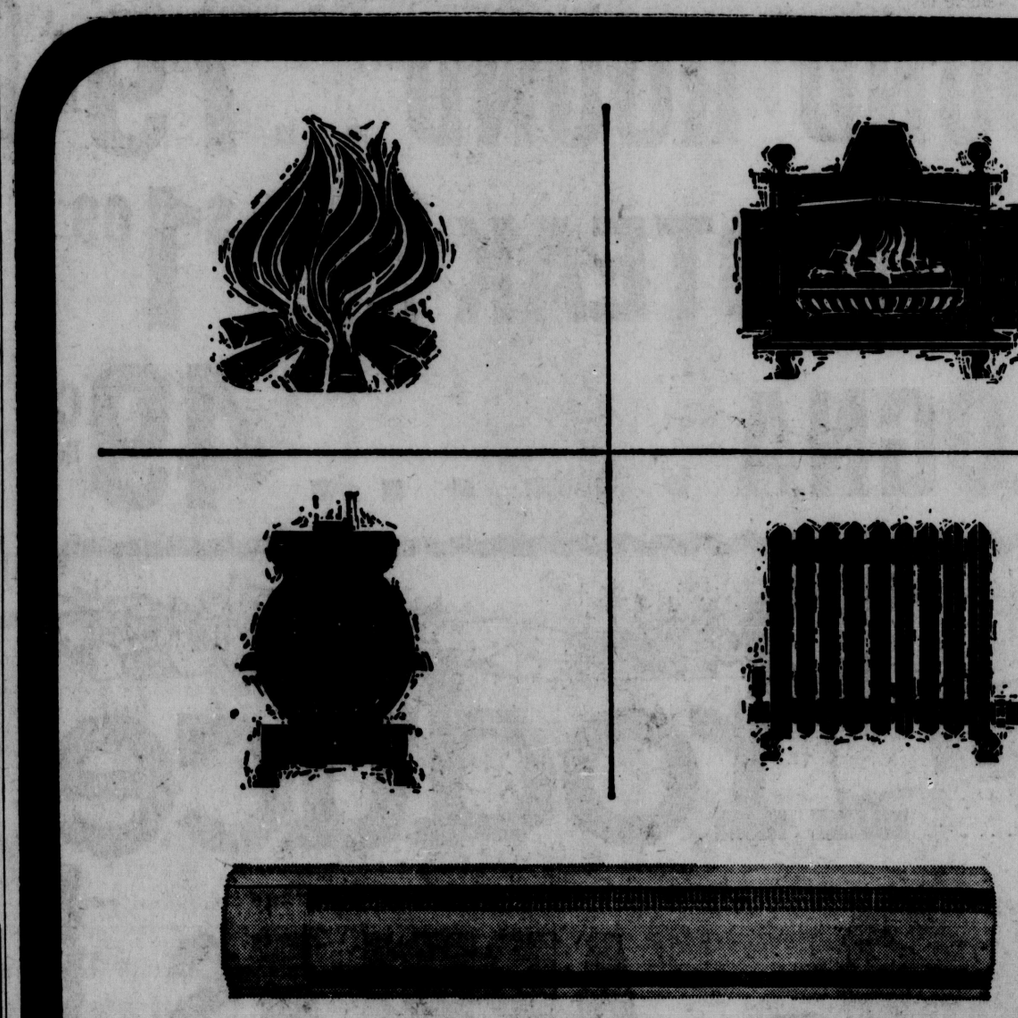

Commissions could be purchased in the British army as late as 1871.

The trend is clear!

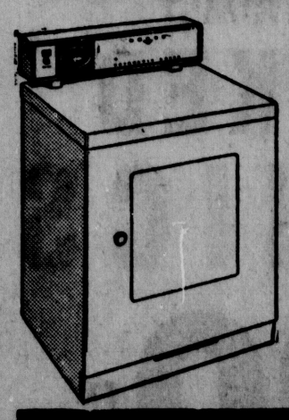

More than 3 million American homes are heated electrically. The Federal Power Commission forecasts 19 million families will convert to or build electrically heated homes within just 12 years! Why?

Ben Franklin's stoves sold like hotcakes because they were more efficient than an open fire. The pot bellied stove was replaced by central heating systems. Today's big home-heating trend is another vast improvement . . . flameless electric . . . because it offers such a wide choice of systems and so many more advantages that it makes other methods of heating seem clumsy and old-fashioned. More convenient, more comfortable, more versatile, electric heat gives you more for your money. And you can enjoy it now, in your present house. Any home can be converted to clean electric heat, easily and economically. Let us prove it. Call us . . . or mail this coupon.

Officers Probe 5 Auto Collisions

Five mishaps marred traffic in East Liverpool over the weekend, but no one was injured seriously, police reported.

An East End youth was taken to City Hospital Saturday night after his auto went out of control on the overhead bridge at Elizabeth St. and Harvey Ave. and struck a guardrail, police reported.

James D. Thomas, 17, of 1210 Pennsylvania Ave. told officers his 1961 two-door sedan went out of control after striking a bump on the bridge about 6:36 p. m. He said a tie rod may have broken under the impact. The front of the auto was damaged. Thomas was taken to the hospital in a cruiser by Patrolman Samuel Hayes.

—:—

A PARKED car was damaged heavily when a motorcycle went out of control Saturday at 1:49 p. m. at St. John St. and Sutton Alley, police said.

The 1963 model motorcycle ridden by Lloyd Cecil of Export, Pa., struck a parked 1961 four-door sedan owned by James E. Lowe of 806 Lincoln Ave., damaging both left fenders and the left rear quarter panel of the auto.

Cecil told police he was traveling west about five miles an hour and turning north. When he started to brake the motorcycle, the throttle stuck and sent it leaping forward into the auto, he said. The collison damaged the headlight and handlebars of the motorcycle, which is owned by Howard W. Richards of 1062 Waterloo St., officers said.

A van-type truck and a station wagon were damaged Saturday afternoon when a Beaver County woman attempted a U-turn on the Freeway 200 yards west of Jefferson St., officers said.

The collision involved a 1967 model truck operated by Jerry Homer Conley of Hunter Ave., LaCroft, and a 1960 model station wagon driven by Donna J. Campbell, 37, of Industry RD 1, officers said.

Conley told police he pulled onto the Freeway from the ramp near Westgate School and saw the station wagon slowing in the right lane. As he started to pass the other vehicle on the left hand side, the woman began a left turn, striking the side of the truck, he said.

Mrs. Campbell told officers she was attempting a U-turn to proceed north to Glenmoor and did not see the truck. The collision damaged the right front fender and bumper of the truck, which is owned by the Smith & Phillips Co. of Washington St., and the left front fender of the station wagon, officers said. The mishap was timed at 1:07 p.m.

AN 81-year-old Hancock County man was involved in a two-way collision Saturday on E. 3rd St. at Broadway, officers said.

The crash involved a 1963 model convertible driven by Charles Edward Summers, 21, of Harrison Ave., MC 19, and a 1946 model truck operated by Floyd B. Nesselroad, 81, of New Cumberland RD 2, officers said.

Summers was driving south on Broadway and Nesselroad was proceeding east on E. 3rd St. Summers said the traffic light was in his favor. Nesselroad reported the traffic light was changing from green to red, but still was showing the amber caution signal when he proceeded through it. The collision damaged the right rear fender, bumper and hubcap of the Summers auto and the left side and front bumper of Nesselroad's truck, officers said.

Meanwhile, Virginia R. Boston of 451 Ray St. told police her 1963 sedan was hit from the rear Sunday morning while halted for a traffic signal at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts. Reporting the mishap to headquarters, she gave police the name of a St. Clair Ave. resident who, she said, was operating the other car. The collision damaged the left rear taillight and chrome strip of the Boston auto.

Driver Faces Charge In Hancock Accident

No one was hurt, but a driver was cited in the lone accident in Hancock County over the weekend.

Sheriff's deputies said two cars collided on Route 66 at Cowl's Farm near New Cumberland, resulting in about $900 damage.

Charged with reckless operation was Thomas E. Childers, 18, of 224 Peacock Ln., Follansbee, who, deputies said, was traveling north at a high rate of speed and struck the rear of another auto operated by Charles W. Wargo, 60, of New Cumberland, which had slowed to make a left turn into the farm.

Autumn officially began at 12:38 p. m. Sept. 23. The earth reached the point in its orbit where its axis was aimed neither toward nor away from the sun and both hemispheres momentarily got the same amount of light.

Is Your Yard Ready For Winter?

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Your house may be buttoned up and snug for winter, but what about your yard?

If you have trees, evergreens and other perennials, then consider the damage a severe winter can cause. Even hardy evergreens can be ruined, either by breakage caused by wind, ice and snow, or by winter burn.

Temporary windbreaks and protection against rodents that will last until spring should be provided.

WINTER protection begins with fertilizing, heavy watering and mulching in the fall.

Evergreens, especially, should be watered deeply before the soil freezes. The extra water lessens the chance of winter burn, which is a drying injury. Needles dry and turn brown and entire limbs can be affected.

To lessen evaporation, cover the ground around the tree with a mulch of leaves, straw or peat moss. Sawdust and wood shavings from your shop can be used.

Remove broken branches from trees before a heavy wind tears them loose later and causes further damage. Paint the exposed wound. If you don't have regular dressing for this, use roof coating.

Small animals will feed on young trees when snows are heavy and food is scarce. A wire screen cylinder around the trunk will prevent this. Use hardware cloth wrapped around the tree about two or three inches from the trunk. Bury the lower end several inches in the ground to stop burrowing animals. Make it high enough for when the snow is high and small animals can sit on top of the frozen crust.

WINTER SUN can hurt trees if it gets the sap flowing. The sap will then expand with a freeze. Newly - planted trees are best protected with a wrapping of burlap.

A few sticks and some burlap will form a screen against wind as well as sun for larger evergreens. These will also offer protection from drifting snow.

Young trees and tall bushes often can be protected by driving a stake alongside and tying. Use clothesline wrapped around a few times for a tall shrub. For a young tree, make a loop of wire. Pass the wire through a piece of hose or rubber tubing to keep it from cutting into the trunk.

For plants growing alongside the house, a windbreak is needed only on one side. More-exposed plants should be protected all around.

During the winter, brush heavy snows from the branches of plants so that they can spring back before being permanently bent.

When cleaning up the yard, remember that leaves make excellent compost. Gardening books will offer a variety of directions for creating good compost. The important thing is to provide some sort of container. A cylinder of chicken wire 3-6 feet across is a simple container. There are others.

Driver Fined On 3 Charges

An 18-year-old Wellsville driver was fined $120 and costs and given a suspended 10-day jail term today in Municipal Court on three charges growing out of a traffic mishap in East Liverpool early Saturday morning.

Ronald Dean Bailey of 1728 Clark Ave., Wellsville, was fined $100 and costs and given a suspended 10-day jail sentence on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license. Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp also fined him $10 and costs each on two additional charges — reckless driving and failure to stop after having been involved in an accident.

Police said Bailey's car was involved in a collision on E. 3rd St. near Walnut St. with a car operated by Ralph Sheets, 19, of N. Shady Ln. Dr.

Witnesses told police Bailey then backed his car at high speed north on Walnut St., striking a parked auto owned by Harry P. Judy of Stagecoach Rd. He continued backing on E. 4th St., crossing Broadway, Washington and Market Sts. and finally coming to a halt in the 300 block of W. 4th St., officers said.

Officers said Bailey fled from his car on foot, but was apprehended by Patrolmen William Copestick and David Huffman as he attempted to hide between two houses.

On the final day of the 1967 American League pennant race three teams had a chance for the title.

Hearing Due Tuesday For Gun-Pointing Case

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today set a hearing Tuesday for an East Liverpool man accused of pointing a gun in an incident that apparently is an outgrowth of the steel-haulers' dispute.

The defendant is Stanley Wilson, 31, of 728 Avondale St., named in an affidavit filed by Melvin Rowley of Sherman Rd., Beaver Falls RD 1. Wilson pleaded not guilty through his counsel, William S. Foulks, when arraigned this morning.

Rowley's affidavit says that Wilson pointed the firearm at him on Oct. 17 "without malice." The judge continued Wilson's $107.50 bond.

Construction Industry Rebound Seen In 1968

WASHINGTON, D. C. — After two years of meager gains, the construction industry is expected to rebound during 1968 with total contract values climbing to a record $56,950,000,000, according to the F. W. Dodge Co., a leading analyst of construction activity and a division of McGraw - Hill, Inc.

The anticipated gain in construction activity would represent a 10 per cent increase over 1967's total contracts for future construction — estimated by Dodge at $51,875,000 with eight-month figures already tabulated.

DURING 1968 the seasonally-adjusted Dodge Index (1957-1959 equals 100) of future construction contract values is expected to jump to 165 from this year's anticipated 150.3.

This picture of the 1968 construction industry emerged in the F. W. Dodge Construction Outlook 1968, presented by George A. Christie, the company's chief economist, during the 29th annual building products executives' conference sponsored at the Statler Hilton Hotel. More than 450 leaders from the construction and building products industry attended the one - day meeting.

According to its 1968 forecast, Dodge sees improvement in all sectors of the industry next year:

Expansion of commercial building activity will spark a 4 per cent gain in the business - related segment even though manufacturing plant construction will be lagging for a time.

Institutional building will benefit from renewed activity in hospital construction as school building levels off.

Highway construction and public works will support a 5 per cent increase in community building.

An upsurge in contracts for one-and two-family houses and apartment buildings will spark a 20 per cent increase in residential contract values.

"There's general agreement that the economy is entering a period of renewed expansion during the closing months of 1967," explained Christie. The big question, he points out, is how strong the advance will be. "There's an unusually wide range of opinion on the subject," the economist noted.

—:—

SOME ANALYSTS fear an anemic expansion that runs the risk of faltering at the first withdrawal of monetary and fiscal supports. Others anticipate so heavy a surge of demand that it will require deliberate restraint to prevent rampant inflation.

"Somewhere between these extremes," Christie believes, "lies the most likely course of economic events."

Government demands for construction will grow more slowly than last year but will, nevertheless, be $15 billion higher than in 1967. With military spending budgeted to level off in 1968, there is growing pressure for expansion of domestic programs — particularly those bearing on the urgent needs of our cities.

Demands of the business sector, according to Christie, will be more expansive during the 1967's stock pruning, moderate inventory expansion will parallel rising consumer demand; but the role of business spending for plant and equipment will be small by past standards.

Personal incomes will be substantially larger in 1968 and—in contrast to this year—consumers will be spending a higher percentage of their incomes.

Even though taxes take a bigger bite, total consumer spending can rise as much as $30 billion next year.

Things Are Looking Up When Painting Ceiling

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Nobody likes to paint a ceiling.

If you're going to paint the walls of a room, you almost always have to paint the ceiling, since it is likely to appear dingy once the walls are completed. And many times a ceiling requires painting more often than the walls of the same room.

Conclusion: whether you like it or not, you're going to have to paint ceilings. Unless, of course, you don't do your own painting, in which case this won't interest you anyhow.

Because they reflect light without the glare produced by gloss and semigloss finishes, flat paints are recommended for most ceilings. But in kitchens and bathrooms, semigloss enamels are preferred. They have greater resistance to moisture, steam, fumes and grease than do the flat paints.

Always work across the width of the ceiling rather than the length. This will enable you to start a second lap before the first one has dried.

This principle is true whether using a brush or a roller, a latex paint or any type of oil or alkyd paint. Always work from a dry area into a wet one. When using a roller — and especially with latex paint — apply a narrow strip all around the perimeter of the ceiling.

If the walls are not being painted or you want to protect them, use a handy metal strip known as a painter's time saver. Be sure to wipe the strip clean each time you use it. Shirt cardboards, frequently changed, also can be used.

If you are working from a single stepladder, you will have to move it very often. A better way is to use two step ladders, with a plank placed between them resting on the treads.

Make certain that the ladders are fully open and locked into position, that the plank is thick enough to support your weight and projects at least a foot beyond the ladder on each side. And keep the paint bucket behind as you walk along the plank.

After some initial scepticism, do-it-yourselfers are beginning to accept the idea of painting a ceiling while standing on the floor.

This is done with a roller on a long handle, making certain there is no excess paint on the roller as it is lifted into the air and being careful not to spin the roller at the end of a stroke.

Many persons who tried this method a few years ago went back to working in the conventional way, claiming that it was too difficult. They since have learned that once you get the knack of it, painting a ceiling while standing on the floor can be done much faster and with less effort.

Driver Faces Charge In Hancock Accident

No one was hurt, but a driver was cited in the lone accident in Hancock County over the weekend.

Sheriff's deputies said two cars collided on Route 66 at Cowl's Farm near New Cumberland, resulting in about $900 damage.

Charged with reckless operation was Thomas E. Childers, 18, of 224 Peacock Ln., Follansbee, who, deputies said, was traveling north at a high rate of speed and struck the rear of another auto operated by Charles W. Wargo, 60, of New Cumberland, which had slowed to make a left turn into the farm.

Autumn officially began at 12:38 p. m. Sept. 23. The earth reached the point in its orbit where its axis was aimed neither toward nor away from the sun and both hemispheres momentarily got the same amount of light.

Is Your Yard Ready For Winter?

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Your house may be buttoned up and snug for winter, but what about your yard?

If you have trees, evergreens and other perennials, then consider the damage a severe winter can cause. Even hardy evergreens can be ruined, either by breakage caused by wind, ice and snow, or by winter burn.

Temporary windbreaks and protection against rodents that will last until spring should be provided.

WINTER protection begins with fertilizing, heavy watering and mulching in the fall.

Evergreens, especially, should be watered deeply before the soil freezes. The extra water lessens the chance of winter burn, which is a drying injury. Needles dry and turn brown and entire limbs can be affected.

To lessen evaporation, cover the ground around the tree with a mulch of leaves, straw or peat moss. Sawdust and wood shavings from your shop can be used.

Remove broken branches from trees before a heavy wind tears them loose later and causes further damage. Paint the exposed wound. If you don't have regular dressing for this, use roof coating.

Small animals will feed on young trees when snows are heavy and food is scarce. A wire screen cylinder around the trunk will prevent this. Use hardware cloth wrapped around the tree about two or three inches from the trunk. Bury the lower end several inches in the ground to stop burrowing animals. Make it high enough for when the snow is high and small animals can sit on top of the frozen crust.

WINTER SUN can hurt trees if it gets the sap flowing. The sap will then expand with a freeze. Newly - planted trees are best protected with a wrapping of burlap.

A few sticks and some burlap will form a screen against wind as well as sun for larger evergreens. These will also offer protection from drifting snow.

Young trees and tall bushes often can be protected by driving a stake alongside and tying. Use clothesline wrapped around a few times for a tall shrub. For a young tree, make a loop of wire. Pass the wire through a piece of hose or rubber tubing to keep it from cutting into the trunk.

For plants growing alongside the house, a windbreak is needed only on one side. More-exposed plants should be protected all around.

During the winter, brush heavy snows from the branches of plants so that they can spring back before being permanently bent.

When cleaning up the yard, remember that leaves make excellent compost. Gardening books will offer a variety of directions for creating good compost. The important thing is to provide some sort of container. A cylinder of chicken wire 3-6 feet across is a simple container. There are others.

Driver Fined On 3 Charges

An 18-year-old Wellsville driver was fined $120 and costs and given a suspended 10-day jail term today in Municipal Court on three charges growing out of a traffic mishap in East Liverpool early Saturday morning.

Ronald Dean Bailey of 1728 Clark Ave., Wellsville, was fined $100 and costs and given a suspended 10-day jail sentence on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license. Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp also fined him $10 and costs each on two additional charges — reckless driving and failure to stop after having been involved in an accident.

Police said Bailey's car was involved in a collision on E. 3rd St. near Walnut St. with a car operated by Ralph Sheets, 19, of N. Shady Ln. Dr.

Witnesses told police Bailey then backed his car at high speed north on Walnut St., striking a parked auto owned by Harry P. Judy of Stagecoach Rd. He continued backing on E. 4th St., crossing Broadway, Washington and Market Sts. and finally coming to a halt in the 300 block of W. 4th St., officers said.

Officers said Bailey fled from his car on foot, but was apprehended by Patrolmen William Copestick and David Huffman as he attempted to hide between two houses.

On the final day of the 1967 American League pennant race three teams had a chance for the title.

Hearing Due Tuesday For Gun-Pointing Case

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today set a hearing Tuesday for an East Liverpool man accused of pointing a gun in an incident that apparently is an outgrowth of the steel-haulers' dispute.

The defendant is Stanley Wilson, 31, of 728 Avondale St., named in an affidavit filed by Melvin Rowley of Sherman Rd., Beaver Falls RD 1. Wilson pleaded not guilty through his counsel, William S. Foulks, when arraigned this morning.

Rowley's affidavit says that Wilson pointed the firearm at him on Oct. 17 "without malice." The judge continued Wilson's $107.50 bond.

Construction Industry Rebound Seen In 1968

WASHINGTON, D. C. — After two years of meager gains, the construction industry is expected to rebound during 1968 with total contract values climbing to a record $56,950,000,000, according to the F. W. Dodge Co., a leading analyst of construction activity and a division of McGraw - Hill, Inc.

The anticipated gain in construction activity would represent a 10 per cent increase over 1967's total contracts for future construction — estimated by Dodge at $51,875,000 with eight-month figures already tabulated.

DURING 1968 the seasonally-adjusted Dodge Index (1957-1959 equals 100) of future construction contract values is expected to jump to 165 from this year's anticipated 150.3.

This picture of the 1968 construction industry emerged in the F. W. Dodge Construction Outlook 1968, presented by George A. Strike Adds To Steel Cost

CLEVELAND (AP)—A persistent strike of 20,000 steel truckers is interfering with shipments, jamming available storage space, and adding extra cost to producers of steel, Steel Magazine said today.

"Deliveries at Youngstown, for example, have been cut to 60 per cent of normal, resulting in the mills piling up thousands of tons of finished products," the weekly journal of metalworking said.

Mills are beginning to run out of storage space, Steel said, and "interest charges on the stockpiled steel represents a big daily cost."

The truck strike is in its ninth week, and as it lengthens another problem arises, Steel said: Deterioration of stock.

"Steel corrodes and changes in metallurgical characteristics during storage (such as age hardening)," Steel said. "This may necessitate cropping and reweighing — possibly reworking—some stored steel after the dispute is settled."

While shipments were in difficulty, output of raw steel and volume of incoming orders both improved last week, Steel said.

Ingot production was estmated at 2.5 million net tons for the week ended Saturday, Steel said. That is the highest rate since last March and one-tenth of one per cent above the previous week.

Incoming orders were up during the first three weeks of October over the September level. Some producers reported the gain was as much as 10 per cent.

Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting grade of steel-making scrap dropped 16 cents last week to $26.92 a gross ton.

Baseboard Units Erase Eyesores

Are you hindered in your decorating schemes by bulky radiators, large, ugly heat registers or dangerously hot heat distributors?

Take a tip from the National Better Heating - Cooling Council of New York City and replace these eyesores with attractive hydronic (hot water) baseboard units.

Professional decorators will go to great lengths to hide a register or cover a radiator, but they prefer to work in a house that's heated with a hydronic system.

Hydronic systems, because of their wall - hugging baseboard heat distributors, are free from the usual decorating problems that prevail with other types of heating systems, the council points out.

Hydronic baseboards usually are installed along the length of outside walls at ankle height. They are only about eight inches high, are completely safe and protrude no more than a couple of inches.

Thus, the decorator, as well as the home owner, can place furniture close to walls without fear of blocking heat.

In addition, installation of floor to ceiling draperies and wall - to - wall carpeting is simplified with baseboard units. Baseboards can be painted to blend or contrast with the room's decor.

Personalities In The News

BOSTON (AP) — Prudence Farrow, 19, who says she once wanted to be a nun, opened a Yoga institute Sunday in a rented room in Arlington Street Church, a Unitarian-Universalist congregation in the heart of Boston.

Miss Farrow, sister of Mia Farrow Sinatra, said "The hippies are the most interested in Yoga. . .but quite a few of the people who come are elderly—you know, 35 or 36, not hippie at all."

Miss Farrow said she was in the grotto of the Roman Catholic shrine at Lourdes, France, when she decided to study Yoga in 1966. She said she tried LSD before she tried Yoga.

Her teacher was a disciple of Maharshi Mahesh Yoga, described as a favorite teacher of the Beatles and the Rolling Stones. Mrs. Sinatra has announced plans to visit Maharshi in India.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, told how he and his 10-year-old son rescued a family of four after their canoe overturned in the Potomac River Sunday.

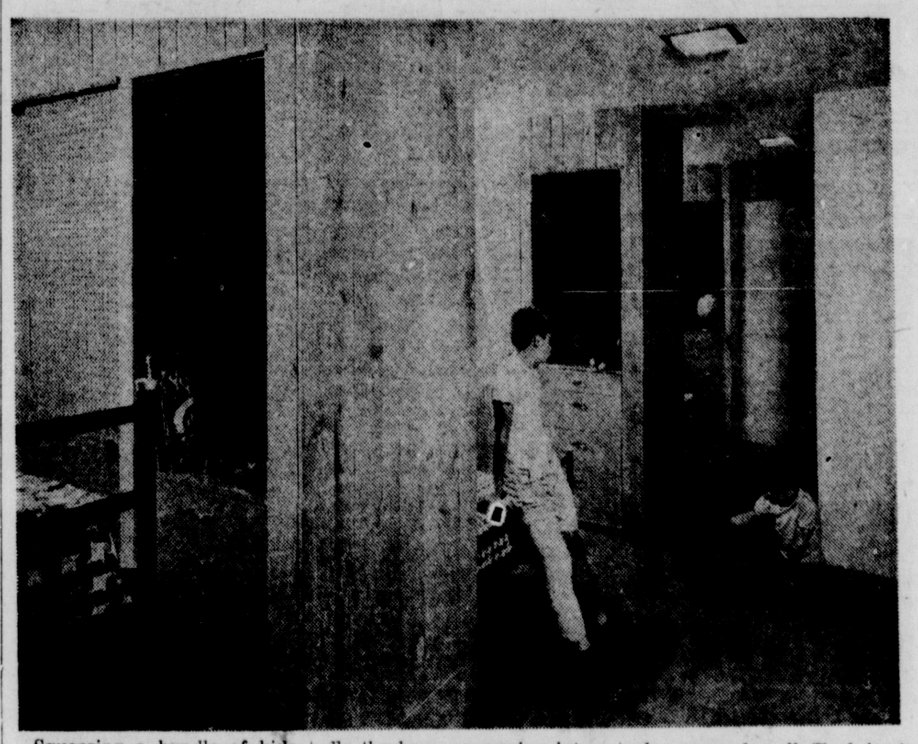

Church said he, his wife and son Chase rented a canoe, paddled a while, then beached it for a rest.

Church said they heard shouts offshore, and he and his son paddled out to investigate. They found two young children and their parents, wearing lifebelts, clinging to the side of a canoe.

Church and his son got the four to shore. Church said he did not get their names.

It Will Save You Space

A 'Dorm-Like' Bedroom

Squeezing a bundle of kids into an average - size house is a trick not easily mastered, as any parent will testify.

And it's especially tough when the parents try to allow each child the measure of privacy he needs as well as indoor play space.

ONE FAMILY, blessed with three rapidly growing and sports - minded boys, provided for their needs with two large rooms, one opening directly off the other.

The outer room is the activity area. It was designed with plenty of storage cupboards as well as open floor space generous enough to handle the boys consuming interest of the moment—ping-pong, slot car racing, or what-have-you.

The inner room is really five rooms wrapped into one. Built into one corner is a large, enclosed bathroom, with access from rumpus room as well as bedroom. Adjoining is the study area, designed with three desks that fold out of the wall. Lighting and storage are provided for each desk.

The remaining space within the room is divided into three sleeping - dressing alcoves arranged side-by-side. They're separated by floor-to-ceiling storage walls containing a closet and built-in dresser.

ALTHOUGH small — about eight feet square including storage wall — the individual alcoves work well. Each boy's bed is set lengthwise against the back of the adjoining divider, allowing a three-foot-wide walkway between bed and built - in closet - dresser. Each alcove has its own good-size window.

Appearance was considered an important factor in making the sleeping alcoves appealing to the boys. Storage walls and other wall surfaces in the room were paneled in solid spruce. The boys chose knotty boards for their masculine character, and a clear polyurethene finish was specified for minimum maintenance.

Bedspreads and curtains are an oversize houndstooth check cotton in turquoise, deep red and black. Turquoise was repeated for drawer fronts and pegboard sliding closet doors in the storage walls.

Roof Bracing Plan Offered

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are an unbelievable number of houses in this country which come under the heading of summer shacks, seashore bungalows, lakeside cabins and so on.

The great majority of these are very lightly built and many are lacking in the structural details which produce a really substantial dwelling. As a matter of fact, it might be said that this applies to houses which are supposed to be more than a temporary shelter.

Here is an employe of such a house. The roof rafters slant down and rest upon the plate which is supported by the wall studs. The ends of the rafters are not notched out as they should be so that the actual bearing they have on the plate is practically nothing.

Heavy winds against the roof surface cannot help but move and work a roof so supported. The result will be a completely unsound roof which will start to leak before very long.

This condition can be remedied without rebuilding the roof frame. And it can be done easily and economically by any home owner. The procedure recommended is to cut filler-pieces of 2-by-4 stock and lay them in between the rafters where they rest on the plate. They are then spiked in place securely. These pieces should be cut accurately and be a tight fit. Once they are in place, it will be evident to anyone that they will brace the rafters and add tremendously to the strength of the entire roof structure.

It is estimated that the average small house could be so braced and strengthened in half a day by any amateur capable of handling a hammer and of handling a hammer and saw.

After Ship Sinking

Egypt Expecting Attack By Israel

By The Associated Press

Israel's angry mood hardened in bitter official statements today and Egyptian officials said they expect an attack "anytime" to avenge Egypt's sinking of an Israeli destroyer in what may have been one of warfare's first sea-to-sea missile raids.

Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol called the sinking of the destroyer Elath Saturday "an act of war in open sea" and said "this despicable attack was launched without any cause."

Egypt's Cabinet asserted the warship was in its territorial waters when missiles shattered it. The exchange came as Soviet Deputy Defense Minister Marshal Matvei Zakharov arrived in Cairo unannounced and President Gamal Abdel Nasser called his ministers together to discuss what the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram reported were "the eventualities of the situation."

The purpose of Zakharov's mission was not disclosed but the commander of Israel's navy said he believed "Soviet missiles fired from Soviet ships supplied to the Egyptian navy" sank the Elath, killing 15 of her crew of 202, wounding 48 more and leaving 36 unaccounted for.

Former Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, speaking at his 81st birthday party, said the missiles were not fired by Egyptians. He would not name, however, those persons he said launched them.

In Cairo, an Egyptian official told The Associated Press: "We expect renewed Israeli aggression anytime. Our armed forces are constantly on alert."

Eshkol reflected the angry mood of his countrymen in a broadcast to the nation. "It was a deliberate and unprovoked attack," he said. "The blood of our sailors, like the blood of our civilians and soldiers, will not be shed wantonly."

It was disclosed meanwhile that as late as Friday Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, hero of Israel's three victorious wars against the Arabs, had said the Suez Canal area is "likely to become once again the spark which touches off war."

Israeli and Egyptian troops face each other across the canal and have exchanged fire sporadically since the June 5-10 war.

Dayan warned that a new conflict would involve the major powers and said the Soviet Union's speedy rearmament of Egypt was encouraging its aggressiveness.

"The Elath sinking has made it crystal clear that the tasks of the Israel defense force are far from over," said the Jerusalem Post, which generally mirrors government views.

"Indeed," the newspaper said, "it has hardened the feeling that there is no real hope of achieving a peaceful solution in the area with the present Arab regimes."

In New York, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said he would be in contact today with representatives of friendly governments "to point out the extreme gravity with which Israel regards the sinking of the Elath." He called it the "most flagrant" violaton of the cease-fire that ended the June war.

In Cairo, Al Ahram said that "the Elath made passes in repeated and clear provocations" of the 12-mile Egyptian territorial water boundary.

When the Elath moved within 11 miles of the Egyptian coast off Port Said, the two missile boats moved in, firing four missiles and sinking the destroyer, the Egyptian account said.

Brig. Gen. Shlomo Errel, Israeli navy commander, denied that the ship was in Egyptian waters, but disclosed that the Elath took three direct hits from the apparently radar-controlled missiles. He said they had one-ton war heads and a range of about 25 miles.

Survivors said the green-colored devices changed course as they zeroed in. Israeli officials speculated they were being used for the first time in combat.

The first two rockets hit the Elath and turned her into a mass of flame and twisted steel. For 2½ hours the crew fought to save her, but the ship's radio was knocked out and they could not call for help.

Finally, a third missile hit the ship and its captain was hurled from the bridge into the sea with a broken back.

Some Success Bared In Cutting Birth Rate

SUVA, Fiji (AP) — The Fiji Family Planning Association reported some success in its effort to reduce this colony's high birth rate.

It said in its annual report that attendances at the British colony's family planning clinics were good in 1966 when the birth rate was 34.87 per 1,000 of population. Ten years ago the rate was 41.91.

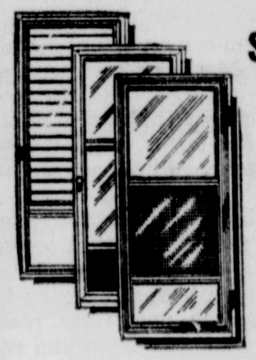

The association said its target was to reduce the rate to 25 per 1,000. (Rate in the United States in 1965 was 19.4 per 1,000.)

Just over half of Fiji's 483,000 people are of the Indian race.

Strike Adds To Steel Cost

CLEVELAND (AP)—A persistent strike of 20,000 steel truckers is interfering with shipments, jamming available storage space, and adding extra cost to producers of steel, Steel Magazine said today.

"Deliveries at Youngstown, for example, have been cut to 60 per cent of normal, resulting in the mills piling up thousands of tons of finished products," the weekly journal of metalworking said.

Mills are beginning to run out of storage space, Steel said, and "interest charges on the stockpiled steel represents a big daily cost."

The truck strike is in its ninth week, and as it lengthens another problem arises, Steel said: Deterioration of stock.

"Steel corrodes and changes in metallurgical characteristics during storage (such as age hardening)," Steel said. "This may necessitate cropping and reweighing — possibly reworking—some stored steel after the dispute is settled."

While shipments were in difficulty, output of raw steel and volume of incoming orders both improved last week, Steel said.

Ingot production was estmated at 2.5 million net tons for the week ended Saturday, Steel said. That is the highest rate since last March and one-tenth of one per cent above the previous week.

Incoming orders were up during the first three weeks of October over the September level. Some producers reported the gain was as much as 10 per cent.

Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting grade of steelmaking scrap dropped 16 cents last week to $26.92 a gross ton.

Baseboard Units Erase Eyesores

Are you hindered in your decorating schemes by bulky radiators, large, ugly heat registers or dangerously hot heat distributors?

Take a tip from the National Better Heating - Cooling Council of New York City and replace these eyesores with attractive hydronic (hot water) baseboard units.

Professional decorators will go to great lengths to hide a register or cover a radiator, but they prefer to work in a house that's heated with a hydronic system.

Hydronic systems, because of their wall - hugging baseboard heat distributors, are free from the usual decorating problems that prevail with other types of heating systems, the council points out.

Hydronic baseboards usually are installed along the length of outside walls at ankle height. They are only about eight inches high, are completely safe and protrude no more than a couple of inches.

Thus, the decorator, as well as the home owner, can place furniture close to walls without fear of blocking heat.

In addition, installation of floor to ceiling draperies and wall - to - wall carpeting is simplified with baseboard units. Baseboards can be painted to blend or contrast with the room's decor.

Personalities In The News

BOSTON (AP) — Prudence Farrow, 19, who says she once wanted to be a nun, opened a Yoga institute Sunday in a rented room in Arlington Street Church, a Unitarian-Universalist congregation in the heart of Boston.

Miss Farrow, sister of Mia Farrow Sinatra, said "The hippies are the most interested in Yoga. . .but quite a few of the people who come are elderly--you know, 35 or 36, not hippie at all."

Miss Farrow said she was in the grotto of the Roman Catholic shrine at Lourdes, France. when she decided to study Yoga in 1966. She said she tried LSD before she tried Yoga.

Her teacher was a disciple of Maharshi Mahesh Yoga, described as a favorite teacher of the Beatles and the Rolling Stones. Mrs. Sinatra has announced plans to visit Maharshi in India.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, told how he and his 10-year-old son rescued a family of four after their canoe overturned in the Potomac River Sunday.

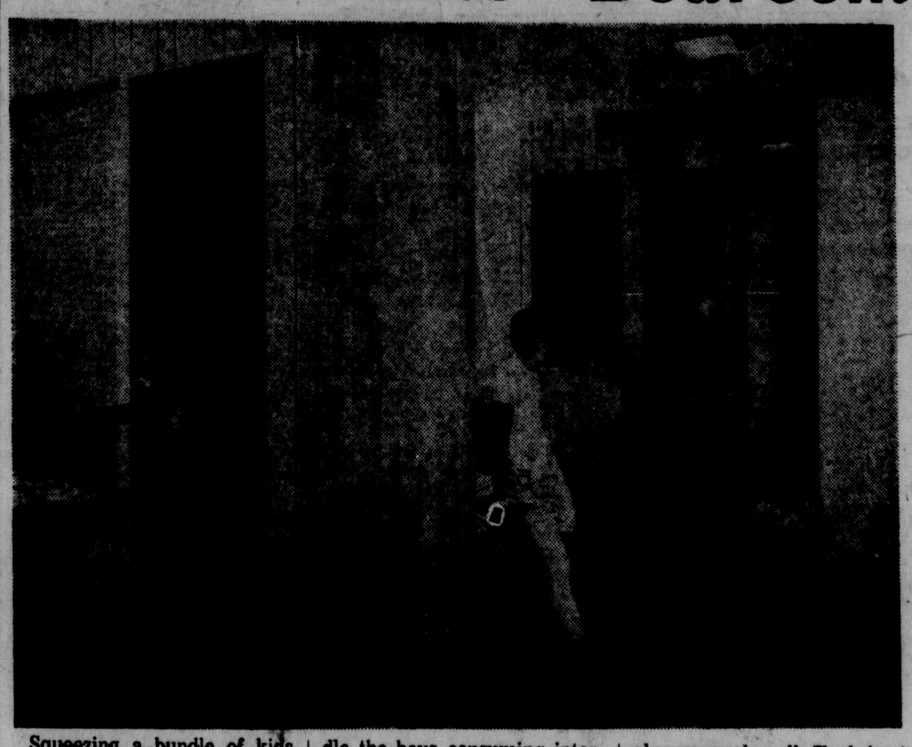

Church said he, his wife and son Chase rented a canoe, paddled a while, then beached it for a rest.

Church said they heard shouts offshore, and he and his son paddled out to investigate. They found two young children and their parents, wearing lifebelts, clinging to the side of a canoe.

Church and his son got the four to shore. Church said he did not get their names.

It Will Save You Space

A 'Dorm-Like' Bedroom

Squeezing a bundle of kids into an average - size house is a trick not easily mastered, as any parent will testify.

And it's especially tough when the parents try to allow each child the measure of privacy he needs as well as indoor play space.

There are solutions, though. One of the best is to reduce bedroom space for each child to a sleeping - dressing alcove, using the area left over for a generous rumpus room.

ONE FAMILY, blessed with three rapidly growing and sports - minded boys, provided for their needs with two large rooms, one opening directly off the other.

The outer room is the activity area. It was designed with plenty of storage cupboards as well as open floor space generous enough to handle the boys consuming interest of the moment—ping-pong, slot car racing, or what-have-you.

The inner room is really five rooms wrapped into one. Built into one corner is a large, enclosed bathroom, with access from rumpus room as well as bedroom. Adjoining is the study area, designed with three desks that fold out of the wall. Lighting and storage are provided for each desk.

The remaining space within the room is divided into three sleeping - dressing alcoves arranged side-by-side. They're separated by floor-to-ceiling storage walls containing a closet and built-in dresser.

ALTHOUGH small — about eight feet square including storage wall — the individual alcoves work well. Each boy's bed is set lengthwise against the back of the adjoining divider, allowing a three-foot-wide walkway between bed and built - in closet - dresser. Each alcove has its own good-size window.

Appearance was considered an important factor in making the sleeping alcoves appealing to the boys. Storage walls and other wall surfaces in the room were paneled in solid spruce. The boys chose knotty boards for their masculine character, and a clear polyurethene finish was specified for minimum maintenance.

Bedspreads and curtains are an oversize houndstooth check cotton in turquoise, deep red and black. Turquoise was repeated for drawer fronts and pegboard sliding closet doors in the storage walls.

Roof Bracing Plan Offered

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are an unbelievable number of houses in this country which come under the heading of summer shacks, seashore bungalows, lakeside cabins and so on.

The great majority of these are very lightly built and many are lacking in the structural details which produce a really substantial dwelling. As a matter of fact, it might be said that this applies to houses which are supposed to be more than a temporary shelter.

Here is an employe of such a house. The roof rafters slant down and rest upon the plate which is supported by the wall studs. The ends of the rafters are not notched out as they should be so that the actual bearing they have on the plate is practically nothing.

Heavy winds against the roof surface cannot help but move and work a roof so supported. The result will be a completely unsound roof which will start to leak before very long.

This condition can be remedied without rebuilding the roof frame. And it can be done easily and economically by any home owner. The procedure recommended is to cut filler-pieces of 2-by-4 stock and lay them in between the rafters where they rest on the plate. They are then spiked in place securely. These pieces should be cut accurately and be a tight fit. Once they are in place, it will be evident to anyone that they will brace the rafters and add tremendously to the strength of the entire roof structure.

It is estimated that the average small house could be so braced and strengthened in half a day by any amateur capable of handling a hammer and of handling a hammer and saw.

"They just had to dry," explained Mrs. Dixon.

After Ship Sinking

Egypt Expecting Attack By Israel

By The Associated Press

Israel's angry mood hardened in bitter official statements today and Egyptian officials said they expect an attack "anytime" to avenge Egypt's sinking of an Israeli destroyer in what may have been one of warfare's first sea-to-sea missile raids.

Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol called the sinking of the destroyer Elath Saturday "an act of war in open sea" and said "this despicable attack was launched without any cause."

Egypt's Cabinet asserted the warship was in its territorial waters when missiles shattered it. The exchange came as Soviet Deputy Defense Minister Marshal Matvei Zakharov arrived in Cairo unannounced and President Gamal Abdel Nasser called his ministers together to discuss what the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram reported were "the eventualities of the situation."

The purpose of Zakharov's mission was not disclosed but the commander of Israel's navy said he believed "Soviet missiles fired from Soviet ships supplied to the Egyptian navy" sank the Elath, killing 15 of her crew of 202, wounding 48 more and leaving 36 unaccounted for.

Former Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, speaking at his 81st birthday party, said the missiles were not fired by Egyptians. He would not name, however, those persons he said launched them.

In Cairo, an Egyptian official told The Associated Press: "We expect renewed Israeli aggression anytime. Our armed forces are constantly on alert."

Eshkol reflected the angry mood of his countrymen in a broadcast to the nation. "It was a deliberate and unprovoked attack," he said. "The blood of our sailors, like the blood of our civilians and soldiers, will not be shed wantonly."

It was disclosed meanwhile that as late as Friday Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, hero of Israel's three victorious wars against the Arabs, had said the Suez Canal area is "likely to become once again the spark which touches off war."

Israeli and Egyptian troops face each other across the canal and have exchanged fire sporadically since the June 5-10 war.

Dayan warned that a new conflict would involve the major powers and said the Soviet Union's speedy rearmament of Egypt was encouraging its aggressiveness.

"The Elath sinking has made it crystal clear that the tasks of the Israel defense force are far from over," said the Jerusalem Post, which generally mirrors government views.

"Indeed," the newspaper said, "it has hardened the feeling that there is no real hope of achieving a peaceful solution in the area with the present Arab regimes."

In New York, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said he would be in contact today with representatives of friendly governments "to point out the extreme gravity with which Israel regards the sinking of the Elath." He called it the "most flagrant" violaton of the cease-fire that ended the June war.

In Cairo, Al Ahram said that "the Elath made passes in repeated and clear provocations" of the 12-mile Egyptian territorial water boundary.

When the Elath moved within 11 miles of the Egyptian coast off Port Said, the two missile boats moved in, firing four missiles and sinking the destroyer, the Egyptian account said.

Brig. Gen. Shlomo Errel, Israeli navy commander, denied that the ship was in Egyptian waters, but disclosed that the Elath took three direct hits from the apparently radar-controlled missiles. He said they had one-ton war heads and a range of about 25 miles.

Survivors said the green-colored devices changed course as they zeroed in. Israeli officials speculated they were being used for the first time in combat.

The first two rockets hit the Elath and turned her into a mass of flame and twisted steel. For 2½ hours the crew fought to save her, but the ship's radio was knocked out and they could not call for help.

Finally, a third missile hit the ship and its captain was hurled from the bridge into the sea with a broken back.

Cardinals, Browns Win Easily, Tie For Century Lead

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

It's surprising how fast a dynasty can fall, especially in sports.

A few years ago Martins Ferry had consistently strong football teams, running up long winning streaks and ranking high in the state year after year. But now, the Purple Riders have dropped 23 straight and are merly a shadow of a good football team.

Martins Ferry was by far the worst team East Liverpool has played this year, and the game was one of the biggest mismatches I can ever remember seeing. Coach Bob McNea, if he had left the first team in, could probably have run the score to 80-0, but the 46-0 was convincing enough.

After the score reached 40-0 at halftime, the 81-0 trouncing of Frostburg State by Waynesburg was brought to mind, but Friday's game didn't come close to being that much of a rout. Favored by 69 points, according to the Dunkel system, the Yellow Jackets of Carl DePasqua led about 56-0 at halftime and not only used only subs the second half, but used nothing but off-tackle plays. The Frostburg coach thanked DePasqua for being merciful after the game was over!

This past weekend, Waynesburg was only a 64-point favorite over Geneva, and won only 69-7.

BUT GETTING back to Martins Ferry, the people there are behind first year coach Pete Barren, a young Ohio U. graduate. They think that Barren, given time, will have the Purple Riders back on top. He has a good start with an entirely under class backfield.

Part of Barren's problem is a murdeous schedule. It was agreed by the Martins Ferry writers that the Potters were the toughest team to face Ferry so far this year, including unbeaten Weirton, but two more unbeaten teams, Wintersville and Wheeling Central Catholic, still remain on the Rider schedule.

The facilities at Martins Ferry are less than the best. The pressbox, if not the smallest we've been in this year, was certainly the dirtiest.

The scholl board is loathe to spend money to improve the field because the new river road might cause the stadium to be torn down and relocated, in which case a good new stadium could be built.

And oh yes, the field was muddy, This is apparently a chronic condition, and some people suggest it is not entirely the work of mother nature.

WE ARE GLAD to report that a second look at the Pittsburgh Penguins proved more encouraging. Saturday night the Penguins became the first expansion member of the National Hockey League to beat one of the established teams, dumping the Chicago Black Hawks. 4-2.

Defenseman Noel Price did not play, and his place was taken by Dunc McCallum, who likes to hit and who doesn't leave the goal unguarded. Les Binkley was in the nets in place of Hank Bassen, and he did an outstanding job of containing Bobby Hull and company. Ken Schinkel, whose job it was to check Hull, scored the three-goal hat trick by being in the right place at the right time.

Art Stratton assisted on all Schinkel's goals and played well all game. Probably the most outstanding Penguin was veteran defenseman Leo Boivin, who battled the rough-tough Black Hawks on even terms and kept the puck out of the Pittsburgh end for the most part.

Vikings Tie Colts; Steelers Nipped

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Hart's strong arm put new wallop into the St. Louis Cardinals' attack, but Gale Sayers' sore leg left the Chicago Bears offenseless.

Hart, St. Louis' sensational rookie quarterback, fired four touchdown passes Sunday in a 48-14 bombardment of the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Cards' fourth triumph in six games kept them tied for the National Football League's Century Division lead with the Cleveland Browns, who blanked the Sayers-less Bears 24-0 for their fourth straight victory.

Green Bay's NFL champions also flexed their muscles in demolishing New York 48-21 while Minnesota fought Baltimore to a 20-20 standoff, Los Angeles and Washington played to a 28-28 tie, San Francisco whipped New Orleans 27-13, Dallas edged Pittsburgh 24-21 and Detroit beat Atlanta 24-3.

In the American Football League, Oakland blasted Boston 48-14, New York crushed Miami 33-14, San Diego trimmed Denver 38-21 and Houston surprised Kansas City 24-19.

Hart hit on 16 of 29 passes for 267 yards as St. Louis poured across 45 straight points to wipe out the Eagles' 14-3 first-quarter lead. Jackie Smith grabbed a pair of Hart strikes for 74 and eight-yard scoring plays and Bobby Joe Conrad and rookie Dave Williams caught one TD pass apiece.

While the Cards were making their biggest point splurge in St. Louis since 1962, the Browns recorded their first regular-season shutout since 1960...while Sayers, Chicago's offensive sparkplug, watched from the sidelines with a bruised left leg.

Frank Ryan's nine-yard TD pass to Gary Collins broke a scoreless tie in the third quarter and the Browns wrapped up the victory with a 17-point final period. The Bears, held to nine first downs, did not threaten until the closing minutes, when they reached the Cleveland seven as time ran out.

Quarterback Bart Starr returned to the Packers' line-up after missing two games with injuries and directed an awesome running attack that produced 38 points in the second half. Jim Grabowski accounted for 123 of Green Bay's 249 rushing yards and Elijah Pitts, who scored three touchdowns, picked up 72 more.

Minnesota, which upended the Packers 10-7 last Sunday, barely nissed knocking off the unbeaten Colts behind Joe Kapp, whose 11-yard TD pass to Red Phillips produced a 20-13 edge in the fourth quarter.

But Johnny Unitas, whose 20 completions set an NFL career mark of 2,131, brought the Colts back 80 yards for the tying touchdown, climaxing the drive with a three-yard pitch to John Mackey.

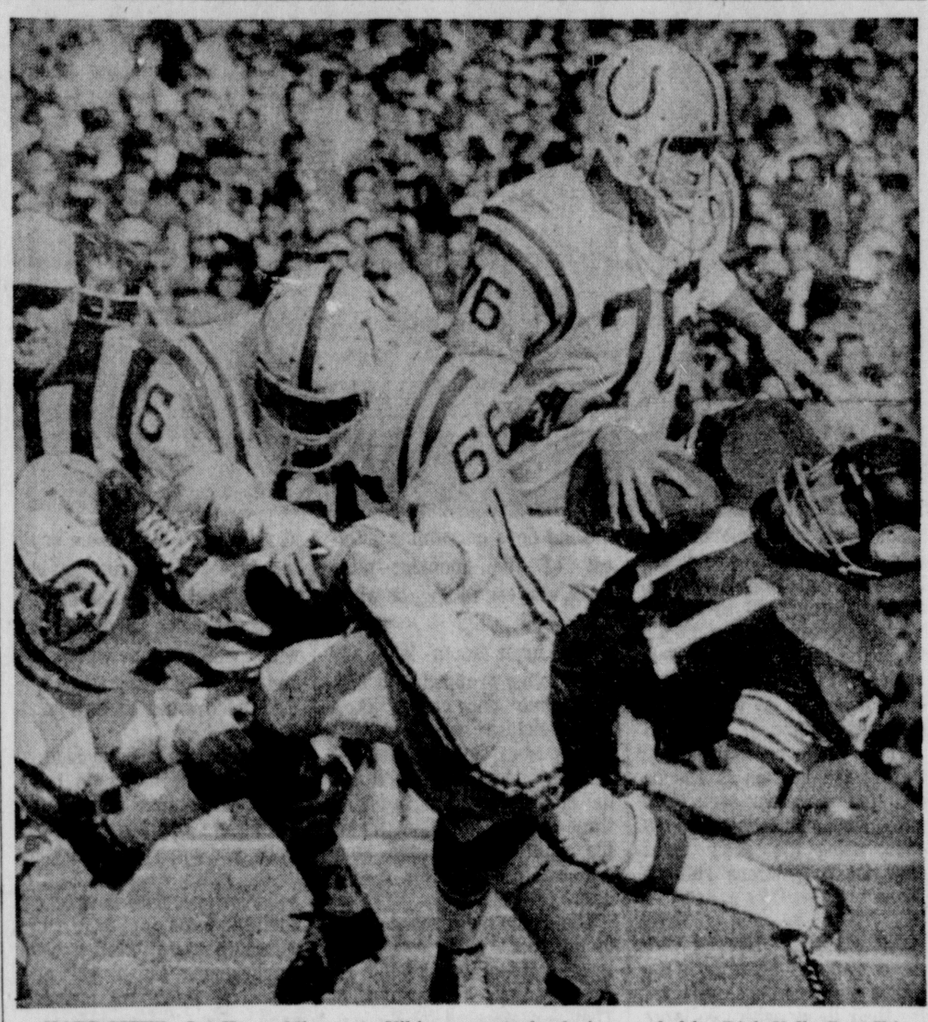

Roman Gabriel's six-yard TD pass to Bernie Casey with 64 seconds to play capped a 75-yard march and earned the Rams a tie with the Redskins. Sonny Jurgensen's fourth scoring pass, a 39-yarder to Jerry Smith, gave Washington a 28-21 lead minutes before Gabriel hit for the tying touchdown.

The deadlocks were the second straight for both the Colts and Rams, who struggled to a 24-24 tie last week.

John Brodie passed for two touchdowns and Tommy Davis kicked a pair of field goals, leading the 49ers past winless New Orleans for their fifth victory in six games.

Craig Morton hit Pettis Norman on a five-yard TD pass with 24 seconds to play, giving the Cowboys the nod over Pittsburgh in another wild finish. Morton's third scoring flip of the game came just 48 seconds after the Steelers grabbed the lead on Kent Nix' 11-yard TD pass to J.R. Wilburn.

Detroit's Karl Sweetan, making his first start of the season, connected with Tom Nowatzke and Bill Malinchak for a pair of fourth-quarter scoring passes breaking up a tight defensive battle with the Falcons.

KAPP-SIZED. Joe Kapp, Minnesota Vikings quarterback, is upended by Rick Volk, Don Shinnick (66) and Fred Miller (76) of the Colts after a 17-yard gain at Minnesota yesterday. Game ended in a 20-20 tie. (UPI Telephoto)

LA Kings Keep Winning; Penguins Split 2 Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Los Angeles' laughling stock Kings are the National Hockey League's only undefeated team and maybe NHL's expansion draft wasn't so funny after all.

The Kings selected veteran goalie Terry Sawchuk in the draft and surrounded him with a band of inexperience youngsters, prompting the consensus that they had done the poorest job of picking. So naturally, they're leading the NHL's expansion West Division.

Sawchuck made his first start Sunday night and was brilliant, as the Kings ripped Chicago 5-3. It was the sixth straight loss for the limping Black Hawks — the second in two nights against expansion teams — and shoved Chicago deeper into the East Division cellar.

Elsewhere, New York showered 51 shots on Pittsburgh goalie Les Binkley and topped the Penguins 6-4, Philadelphia won its third straight, trimming California 5-2 and Paul Henderson's third period goal gave Detroit a 1-0 decision over St. Louis and Glenn Hall.

In Saturday night's games, New York stopped Toronto 5-3, Montreal whipped Boston 4-2, Pittsburgh slugged Chicago 4-2, Minnesota topped California 3-1 and St. Louis battled to a 3-3 tie with Los Angeles.

Sawchuk, 37, kicked out 42 shots — 19 of them in the final period — as the Black Hawks buzzed around Los Angeles' goal. The Kings erased a 2-0 Chicago lead, scoring four times in the second period. Bill Flett, Brian Kilrea, Lowell MacDonald and Brian Smith scored the goals.

Los Angeles' five goal scorers had a total of 109 NHL games experience before this season — exactly 800 less than Sawchuck has played.

Orland Kurtenbach scored two goals for the Rangers who pounded away at Binkley and finally broke the game open in the third period.

Henderson's goal with just under five minutes left in the game, beat Hall for the Red Wings. Bruce MacGregor's pass set Henderson up against Hall, who had kept St. Louis in the game with a series of brilliant saves.

The shutout was the first for Detroit's Roger Crozier since last Dec. 18. He made 30 stops.

Five different players scored for Philadelphia against California as the expansion Flyers won their third straight and moved into second place in the West, two points behind Los Angeles.

The Leetonia Bears were upset 28-14 at Poland Saturday night, as the previously winless Bulldogs broke a 14-14 tie on a 95-yard kickoff return.

Leetonia, now 4-3 after three straight losses, outgained the winners, but two lost fumbles and two interceptions hurt its cause. Ken DiCross scored a TD and an extra point and rushed for 145 yards in 17 carries. Dan Bell scored the other Bear tally and gained 92 yards in 15 carries. Ed Casey hit 7 of 15 passes for 64 yards.

Yogis Have Good Week, Rose Nuzzo Leads At 8-1

Apparently all the Review Grid Yogis needed was a woman's touch.

Led by Rose Nuzzo, the Yogis had their best week, with the consensus going 7-1, with one game a tie and one game a 3-3 split. Nuzzo took over the lead with a 8-1 mark, although Bob Shaffer, Tom Futhey and Turk Pierce also were 8-1 on the week. Bobb Duffy, tripped up by Ohio U., was 6-3, and Bob Poole, still picking underdogs, was 5-4.

Everyone was right with East Liverpool, a 46-0 winner over Martins Ferry; Crestview, a 22-0 victor over United, and the Cowboys, who barely nipped the Steelers 24-21. The Rochester - Midland game ended in a 20-20 tie.

Poole, Shaffer and Nuzzo selected Salem, a 26-0 winner over Oak Glen. Futhey and Pierce were alone in picking Bowling Green, a 7-6 victory over Kent State. Poole was the lone loser in three games. He picked Beaver Local, which was nipped by Lisbon 15-14; the Bears, blanked by the Browns 24-0;, and West Virginia, which put up a battle but succumbed to Penn State 21-14. Duffy went with Ohio U., a 22-15 loser to Miami.

Cardinals, Browns Win Easily, Tie For Century Lead

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

It's surprising how fast a dynasty can fall, especially in sports.

A few years ago Martins Ferry had consistently strong football teams, running up long winning streaks and ranking high in the state year after year. But now, the Purple Riders have dropped 23 straight and are merly a shadow of a good football team.

Martins Ferry was by far the worst team East Liverpool has played this year, and the game was one of the biggest mismatches I can ever remember seeing. Coach Bob McNea, if he had left the first team in, could probably have run the score to 80-0, but the 46-0 was convincing enough.

After the score reached 40-0 at halftime, the 81-0 trouncing of Frostburg State by Waynesburg was brought to mind, but Friday's game didn't come close to being that much of a rout. Favored by 69 points, according to the Dunkel system, the Yellow Jackets of Carl DePasqua led about 56-0 at halftime and not only used only subs the second half, but used nothing but off-tackle plays. The Frostburg coach thanked DePasqua for being merciful after the game was over!

This past weekend, Waynesburg was only a 64-point favorite over Geneva, and won only 69-7.

BUT GETTING back to Martins Ferry, the people there are behind first year coach Pete Barren, a young Ohio U. graduate. They think that Barren, given time, will have the Purple Riders back on top. He has a good start with an entirely under class backfield.

Part of Barren's problem is a murdeous schedule. It was agreed by the Martins Ferry writers that the Potters were the toughest team to face Ferry so far this year, including unbeaten Weirton, but two more unbeaten teams, Wintersville and Wheeling Central Catholic, still remain on the Rider schedule.

The facilities at Martins Ferry are less than the best. The pressbox, if not the smallest we've been in this year, was certainly the dirtiest.

The scholl board is loathe to spend money to improve the field because the new river road might cause the stadium to be torn down and relocated, in which case a good new stadium could be built.

And oh yes, the field was muddy, This is apparently a chronic condition, and some people suggest it is not entirely the work of mother nature.

WE ARE GLAD to report that a second look at the Pittsburgh Penguins proved more encouraging. Saturday night the Penguins became the first expansion member of the National Hockey League to beat one of the established teams, dumping the Chicago Black Hawks, 4-2.

Defenseman Noel Price did not play, and his place was taken by Dunc McCallum, who likes to hit and who doesn't leave the goal unguarded. Les Binkley was in the nets in place of Hank Bassen, and he did an outstanding job of containing Bobby Hull and company. Ken Schinkel, whose job it was to check Hull, scored the three-goal hat trick by being in the right place at the right time.

Art Stratton assisted on all Schinkel's goals and played well all game. Probably the most outstanding Penguin was veteran defenseman Leo Boivin, who battled the rough-tough Black Hawks on even terms and kept the puck out of the Pittsburgh end for the most part.

Vikings Tie Colts; Steelers Nipped

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Hart's strong arm put new wallop into the St. Louis Cardinals' attack, but Gale Sayers' sore leg left the Chicago Bears offenseless.

Hart, St. Louis' sensational rookie quarterback, fired four touchdown passes Sunday in a 48-14 bombardment of the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Cards' fourth triumph in six games kept them tied for the National Football League's Century Division lead with the Cleveland Browns, who blanked the Sayers-less Bears 24-0 for their fourth straight victory.

Green Bay's NFL champions also flexed their muscles in demolishing New York 48-21 while Minnesota fought Baltimore to a 20-20 standoff, Los Angeles and Washington played to a 28-28 tie, San Francisco whipped New Orleans 27-13, Dallas edged Pittsburgh 24-21 and Detroit beat Atlanta 24-3.

In the American Football League, Oakland blasted Boston 48-14, New York crushed Miami 33-14, San Diego trimmed Denver 38-21 and Houston surprised Kansas City 24-19.

Hart hit on 16 of 29 passes for 267 yards as St. Louis poured across 45 straight points to wipe out the Eagles' 14-3 first-quarter lead. Jackie Smith grabbed a pair of Hart strikes for 74 and eight-yard scoring plays and Bobby Joe Conrad and rookie Dave Williams caught one TD pass apiece.

While the Cards were making their biggest point splurge in St. Louis since 1962, the Browns recorded their first regular-season shutout since 1960...while Sayers, Chicago's offensive sparkplug, watched from the sidelines with a bruised left leg.

Frank Ryan's nine-yard TD pass to Gary Collins broke a scoreless tie in the third quarter and the Browns wrapped up the victory with a 17-point final period. The Bears, held to nine first downs, did not threaten until the closing minutes, when they reached the Cleveland seven as time ran out.

Quarterback Bart Starr returned to the Packers' line-up after missing two games with injuries and directed an awesome running attack that produced 38 points in the second half. Jim Grabowski accounted for 123 of Green Bay's 249 rushing yards and Elijah Pitts, who scored three touchdowns, picked up 72 more.

Minnesota, which upended the Packers 10-7 last Sunday, barely nissed knocking off the unbeaten Colts behind Joe Kapp, whose 11-yard TD pass to Red Phillips produced a 20-13 edge in the fourth quarter.

But Johnny Unitas, whose 20 completions set an NFL career mark of 2,131, brought the Colts back 80 yards for the tying touchdown, climaxing the drive with a three-yard pitch to John Mackey.

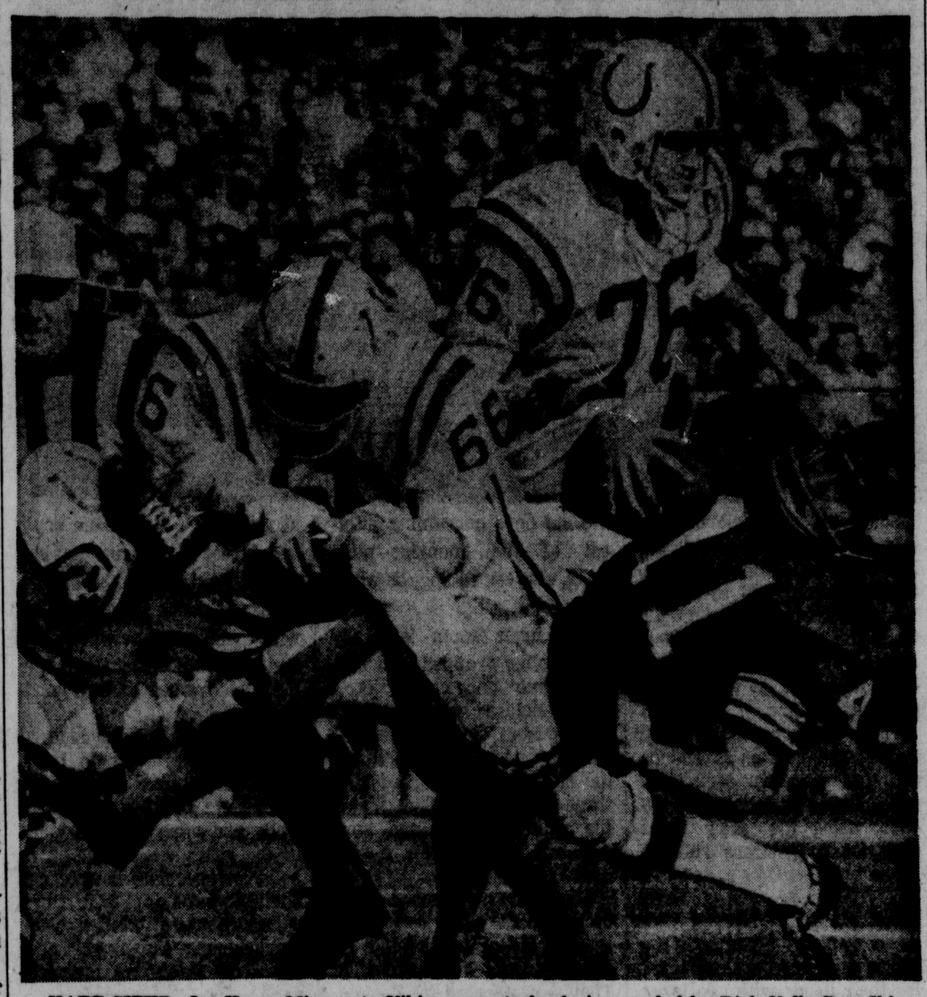

Roman Gabriel's six-yard TD pass to Bernie Casey with 64 seconds to play capped a 75-yard march and earned the Rams a tie with the Redskins. Sonny Jurgensen's fourth scoring pass, a 39-yarder to Jerry Smith, gave Washington a 28-21 lead minutes before Gabriel hit for the tying touchdown.

The deadlocks were the second straight for both the Colts and Rams, who struggled to a 24-24 tie last week.

John Brodie passed for two touchdowns and Tommy Davis kicked a pair of field goals, leading the 49ers past winless New Orleans for their fifth victory in six games.

Craig Morton hit Pettis Norman on a five-yard TD pass with 24 seconds to play, giving the Cowboys the nod over Pittsburgh in another wild finish. Morton's third scoring flip of the game came just 48 seconds after the Steelers grabbed the lead on Kent Nix' 11-yard TD pass to J.R. Wilburn.

Detroit's Karl Sweetan, making his first start of the season, connected with Tom Nowatzke and Bill Malinchak for a pair of fourth-quarter scoring passes breaking up a tight defensive battle with the Falcons.

KAPP-SIZED. Joe Kapp, Minnesota Vikings quarterback, is upended by Rick Volk, Don Shinnick (66) and Fred Miller (76) of the Colts after a 17-yard gain at Minnesota yesterday. Game ended in a 20-20 tie. (UPI Telephoto)

Rams Set School Mark With 3rd Straight Win

South Side Beaver won its third straight football game Saturday, the first time that has happened since the school was formed in 1957.

The Rams, now 3-4, downed Avonworth, 0-7, by a 19-13 margine at South Side. The Antelopes were on the Rams' 15 when the game ended.

Ron Peden was once again the star for Don Charlton's club, gaining 151 yards rushing and scoring twice. Dave Woodling added 38 yards on the ground. Quarterback Tom Doak scored the other TD on a sneak. Art Parker scored both Avonworth TDs.

LA Kings Keep Winning; Penguins Split 2 Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Los Angeles' laughling stock Kings are the National Hockey League's only undefeated team and maybe NHL's expansion draft wasn't so funny after all.

The Kings selected veteran goalie Terry Sawchuk in the draft and surrounded him with a band of inexperience youngsters, prompting the consensus that they had done the poorest job of picking. So naturally, they're leading the NHL's expansion West Division.

Sawchuck made his first start Sunday night and was brilliant, as the Kings ripped Chicago 5-3. It was the sixth straight loss for the limping Black Hawks — the second in two nights against expansion teams — and shoved Chicago deeper into the East Division cellar.

Elsewhere, New York showered 51 shots on Pittsburgh goalie Les Binkley and topped the Penguins 6-4, Philadelphia won its third straight, trimming California 5-2 and Paul Henderson's third period goal gave Detroit a 1-0 decision over St. Louis and Glenn Hall.

In Saturday night's games, New York stopped Toronto 5-3, Montreal whipped Boston 4-2, Pittsburgh slugged Chicago 4-2, Minnesota topped California 3-1 and St. Louis battled to a 3-3 tie with Los Angeles.

Sawchuk, 37, kicked out 42 shots — 19 of them in the final period — as the Black Hawks buzzed around Los Angeles' goal. The Kings erased a 2-0 Chicago lead, scoring four times in the second period. Bill Flett, Brian Kilrea, Lowell MacDonald and Brian Smith scored the goals.

Los Angeles' five goal scorers had a total of 109 NHL games experience before this season — exactly 800 less than Sawchuck has played.

Orland Kurtenbach scored two goals for the Rangers who pounded away at Binkley and finally broke the game open in the third period.

Henderson's goal with just under five minutes left in the game, beat Hall for the Red Wings. Bruce MacGregor's pass set Henderson up against Hall, who had kept St. Louis in the game with a series of brilliant saves.

The shutout was the first for Detroit's Roger Crozier since last Dec. 18. He made 30 stops.

Five different players scored for Philadelphia against California as the expansion Flyers won their third straight and moved into second place in the West, two points behind Los Angeles.

USC Keeps Rolling, 23-6; Purdue, Alabama Upset

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

O. J. flowed again, the Beavers were more than just eager and the Tide went out.

That was the story Saturday as O. J. Simpson led Southern California, the nation's No. 1 major college football team, to a 23-6 victory over Washington; the Oregon State Beavers upset second-ranked Purdue 22-14, and Alabama's sixth-ranked Crimson Tide bowed to seventh-rated Tennessee 24-13.

The sensational Simpson, nicknamed Orange Juice, ran for 242 yards and two touchdowns and passed for another TD as Southern Cal built its record to 6-0 with the Pacific-8 triumph.

Simpson got the Trojans, who were plagued by four fumbles and an interception rolling with an 86-yard scoring dash in the first period, ran 10 yards for another TD in the fourth and then passed 17 yards for the final touchdown.

The Beavers fell behind 14-10 against Purdue before breaking loose for 12 points on Bill Enyart's four-yard TD run and a pair of field goals by Mike Haggard.

The Oregon State defense recovered three fumbles and intercepted three passes in thwarting Purdue's bid for its 10th straight victory. The Boilermakers now are 4-1.

Third-string quarterback Bubba Wyche guided the Tennessee offense and the Volunteers' defense picked off five Kenny Stabler's passes in sending Alabama to its first defeat in 26 games.

One of the interceptions resulted in a Tennessee touchdown as Al Dorsey raced 31 yards. Tennessee now is 3-1 and Alabama is 3-1-1.

All of the other Top Ten teams won.

Gary Beban rallied third-ranked UCLA, 6-0, from a 10-7 deficit with touchdown runs of 11 and four yards as the Bruins beat stubborn Stanford 21-6.

Safety Dick Anderson intercepted a Frank Patrick pass, ran 17 yards and then lateraled to Mike Veeder, who continued 45 more to score as No. 4 Colorado, 5-0, snapped a 7-7 tie and went on to edge Nebraska 21-16 in a key Big Eight Conference game. Jeff Raymond got the clinching TD for Colorado when he returned an interception 76 yards.

No. 5 North Carolina State, 6-0, got three field goals from Gerald Warren and a 76-yard TD punt return from Fred Cooms in beating Wake Forest 24-7 in a night game.

Georgia, No. 8, breezed to its fourth victory against one loss, blasting Virginia Military Institute 56-6. Ronnie Jenkins und Brad Johnson each scored twice for the Bulldogs, who held VMI to minus 49 yards rushing.

With the talented Warren McVea on the bench with injuries, Don Bean took over and scored on a 65-yard punt return and a nine-yard run in leading ninth-ranked Houston, 4-1 to a 43-6 trouncing of Mississippi State.

San Diego Chargers, 5-0-1, Led By Quarterback Hadl

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego doesn't worry anymore about John Hadl giving up the football, but those shapely blondes are starting to give him trouble.

It began Sunday, more unexpectedly than the Chargers' showing this year, when a gal dashed from the stands in the third quarter, grabbed up the football at the line of scrimmage and refused to give it back.

It was about the only game the surprising Chargers have lost this year as they ran their record to 5-0-1 with a 38-21 victory over Denver on Hadl's three touchdown pitches in the last half.

The victory kept them the American League's only unbeaten team and still atop the Western Division, a half-game ahead of Oakland.

The Raiders easily ran their record to 5-1 behind Daryle Lamonica's four scoring passes that carried them to a 48-14 rout over Boston and set up a clash against San Diego next Sunday.

The league's defending champions, Kansas City, fell further behind when Houston upset them 24-19, while the New York Jets continued to roll along as the Eastern Division leader with a 34-14 triumph over Miami.

Hadl, troubled by interceptions during his six-year AFL career, was the man of the hour for the Chargers. He shook off two thefts on his first three tosses against the Broncos to snap a 14-14 deadlock with scoring passes of 66 yards to Dick Post, five yards to Willie Frazier and 67 yards to Lance Alworth.

"I don't worry anymore about Hadl," Gillman said. "He can have a shaky start and still come back with a great game. He knows and I know that he's not going to have a bad game."

While Hadl was pulling out the game for San Diego, a gal who said her name was Beverly Hutchison of Colorado was the woman of the hour.

She came out of the east stands, vaulted a three-foot-high fence and swiped the football just as the Denver center noved over it. Stunned officials tried to get it back, and then ushers and police officers pleaded in vain after she returned to the stands.

Oakland, keeping it a man's game, handed Lamonica the ball and he responded by throwing one TD pass and setting up two field goals for a 20-0 halftime lead. When the Patriots closed to 20-7, he demolished them with three more payoff tosses, and then expressed dissatisfaction.

"I'd rather be lucky than good," said Houston Coach Wally Lemm. "We just got the early breaks and that did it for us."

He was talking about the 24-3 lead the Oilers grabbed in the first half on Zeke Moore's 92-yard scoring kickoff return, Jim Norton's 23-yard TD return of an intercepted screen pass and Larry Carwell's 33-yard punt return that set up a 45-yard field goal. Houston's offense got its only touchdown as Pete Beathard punished his former mates with a 39-yard scoring pass.

USC Keeps Rolling, 23-6; Purdue, Alabama Upset

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

O. J. flowed again, the Beavers were more than just eager and the Tide went out.

That was the story Saturday as O. J. Simpson led Southern California, the nation's No. 1 major college football team, to a 23-6 victory over Washington; the Oregon State Beavers upset second-ranked Purdue 22-14, and Alabama's sixth-ranked Crimson Tide bowed to seventh-rated Tennessee 24-13.

The sensational Simpson, nicknamed Orange Juice, ran for 242 yards and two touchdowns and passed for another TD as Southern Cal built its record to 6-0 with the Pacific-8 triumph.

Simpson got the Trojans, who were plagued by four fumbles and an interception rolling with an 86-yard scoring dash in the first period, ran 10 yards for another TD in the fourth and then passed 17 yards for the final touchdown.

The Beavers fell behind 14-10 against Purdue before breaking loose for 12 points on Bill Enyart's four-yard TD run and a pair of field goals by Mike Haggard.

The Oregon State defense recovered three fumbles and intercepted three passes in thwarting Purdue's bid for its 10th straight victory. The Boilermakers now are 4-1.

Third-string quarterback Bubba Wyche guided the Tennessee offense and the Volunteers' defense picked off five Kenny Stabler's passes in sending Alabama to its first defeat in 26 games.

One of the interceptions resulted in a Tennessee touchdown as Al Dorsey raced 31 yards. Tennessee now is 3-1 and Alabama is 3-1-1.

All of the other Top Ten teams won.

Gary Beban rallied third-ranked UCLA, 6-0, from a 10-7 deficit with touchdown runs of 11 and four yards as the Bruins beat stubborn Stanford 21-6.

Safety Dick Anderson intercepted a Frank Patrick pass, ran 17 yards and then lateraled to Mike Veeder, who continued 45 more to score as No. 4 Colorado, 5-0, snapped a 7-7 tie and went on to edge Nebraska 21-16 in a key Big Eight Conference game. Jeff Raymond got the clinching TD for Colorado when he returned an interception 76 yards.

No. 5 North Carolina State, 6-0, got three field goals from Gerald Warren and a 76-yard TD punt return from Fred Cooms in beating Wake Forest 24-7 in a night game.

Georgia, No. 8, breezed to its fourth victory against one loss, blasting Virginia Military Institute 56-6. Ronnie Jenkins und Brad Johnson each scored twice for the Bulldogs, who held VMI to minus 49 yards rushing.

With the talented Warren McVea on the bench with injuries, Don Bean took over and scored on a 65-yard punt return and a nine-yard run in leading ninth-ranked Houston, 4-1 to a 43-6 trouncing of Mississippi State.

San Diego Chargers, 5-0-1, Led By Quarterback Hadl

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego doesn't worry anymore about John Hadl giving up the football, but those shapely blondes are starting to give him trouble.

It began Sunday, more unexpectedly than the Chargers' showing this year, when a gal dashed from the stands in the third quarter, grabbed up the football at the line of scrimmage and refused to give it back.

It was about the only game the surprising Chargers have lost this year as they ran their record to 5-0-1 with a 38-21 victory over Denver on Hadl's three touchdown pitches in the last half.

The victory kept them the American League's only unbeaten team and still atop the Western Division, a half-game ahead of Oakland.

The Raiders easily ran their record to 5-1 behind Daryle Lamonica's four scoring passes that carried them to a 48-14 rout over Boston and set up a clash against San Diego next Sunday.

The league's defending champions, Kansas City, fell further behind when Houston upset them 24-19, while the New York Jets continued to roll along as the Eastern Division leader with a 34-14 triumph over Miami.

Hadl, troubled by interceptions during his six-year AFL career, was the man of the hour for the Chargers. He shook off two thefts on his first three tosses against the Bronocs to snap a 14-14 deadlock with scoring passes of 66 yards to Dick Post, five yards to Willie Frazier and 67 yards to Lance Alworth.

"I don't worry anymore about Hadl," Gillman said. "He can have a shaky start and still come back with a great game. He knows and I know that he's not going to have a bad game."

While Hadl was pulling out the game for San Diego, a gal who said her name was Beverly Hutchison of Colorado was the woman of the hour.

She came out of the east stands, vaulted a three-foot-high fence and swiped the football just as the Denver center moved over it. Stunned officials tried to get it back, and then ushers and police officers pleaded in vain after she returned to the stands.

Oakland, keeping it a man's game, handed Lamonica the ball and he responded by throwing one TD pass and setting up two field goals for a 20-0 halftime lead. When the Patriots closed to 20-7, he demolished them with three more payoff tosses, and then expressed dissatisfaction.

"I'd rather be lucky than good," said Houston Coach Wally Lemm. "We just got the early breaks and that did it for us."

Houston's offense got its only touchdown as Pete Beathard punished his former mates with a 39-yard scoring pass.

Toledo Scrambles Mid-American Race

By SAM DOBBINS
Associated Press Writer

The name of the game still is football, but in the Mid-American Conference it looks more like a horse race.

Following a hectic weekend on the Ohio college football scene, the MAC scramble ended up in a three-way deadlock with Toledo, Miami and Western Michigan sporting 3-1 records.

Elsewhere, Ohio State came alive long enough to even its season mark at 2-2 with a 6-2 Big Ten victory over Northwestern; Dayton rolled up its most points in a quarter century in belting Temple 56-6; and woe - stricken Cincinnati was clubbed by Tulsa 35-6.

Surging Toledo had the big say in MAC play, smashing previously undefeated (in the conference) Western Michigan 35-9. Toledo put together drives of 80, 80, and 73 yards in grinding out the victory, holding the Broncos scoreless until the final period.

In the other key MAC game, Miami handed Ohio University its second loss in four conference outings, shading the Bobcats 22-15 on tailback Al Moores 73-yard touchdown run late in the game. Moore ground out 232 yards rushing as the Redskins put down an Ohio rally with only a few seconds remaining.

At Evanston, Ill., Ohio State halfback Dave Brungard set up the game's only touchdown by returning a second half kickoff 44 yards to Northwestern's 46. Nine plays later Brungard scored from two yards out.

Northwestern got on the scoreboard with 1:32 left as Ohio State Gerry Ehrsam, after two bad Buckeye punts, deliberately fell on the ball in his own end zone. OSU kicked off and drove the Wildcats deep into their own territory to run out the clock.

The first - ever meeting Between Dayton and Temple was highlighted by three touchdowns apiece from halfbacks Bill Mayo and Bob Madden. It was the most points collected by the Flyers since their 75 - 0 romp over Detroit in 1941.

Tulsa, even with three interceptions and three lost fumbles, had no trouble with Cincinnati, despite a good effort by Bearcat quarterback Greg Cook. Cook, knocked down continously by Tulsa's defense, passed for 185 yards.

In other games:

Bill Long caught three touchdown passes as Ohio Wesleyan bombed Wabash 41 - 0; Mount Union won its first Ohio Conference outing in five starts, shutting out Hiram 43 - 0; A. J. Vaughn hurled three TD aerials as Wayne State crushed Adelbert 49-20; Wilmington won its first decision in five starts by beating Case 47 - 13; Bluffton claimed the Mid - Ohio Conference title with its 27-7 victory over Defiance; and Rick Harbold scored three TDs and Jim Usynski passed for two as Muskingum beat Capital 34-13.

The others:

Bowling Green 7, Kent State 6; Marietta 21, Otterbein 7; Denison 27, Oberlin 6; Wooster 52, Kenyon 0; Heidelberg 19, Ashland 19 (tie); Akron 23, Baldwin - Wallace 23 (tie); Central Michigan 33, Central State 0; Wittenberg 37, John Carroll 0; Pensacola Navy 17, Youngstown 14; Xavier 40, Chattanoga 28; Kentucky State 13, Findlay 6; Midwestern (Iowa) at Ohio Northern, canceled.

Kentucky Wins First ABA Game

By The Associated Press

A pass from the Army and a spark from the bench set up the Kentucky Colonels for their first American Basketball Association victory Sunday night.

Lou Dampier, former University of Kentucky star on a weekend pass from the National Guard at Ft. Knox, Ky., dropped in 28 points, in the 106-96 victory over Minnesota. His two field goals put the Colonels ahead to stay 94-93 with 3:18 left.

He had plenty of help from Steward Johnson, who came off the bench in the second period and pocketed 22 points, including four three-point baskets beyond the 25-foot range.

Only 2,000 turned out to see Dallas lose its first game in two starts, dropping a 121-101 decision to unbeaten Indiana.

Fred Lewis scored 27 points and Roger Brown 26 as the Pacers won their fifth game. Bob Verga had 31 for Dallas, which fell behind 15-13 and never caught up.

In the National Basketball Association, Cincinnati and San Francisco beat the two expansion teams, Seattle and San Diego.

Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson powered a second-half Royal rally for a 106-94 victory over Seattle as Lucas hit 26 points and collected 24 rebounds and the Big O added 23 points and nine assists.

Said bonds mature as follows: $6,800 on December 1, 1969 and $7,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1970 to 1973, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of paying a final judgment rendered against the City in an action based on a noncontractual obligation.

Said bonds are payable at the office of The First National Bank of East Liverpool, East Liverpool, Ohio, without deduction for its services as the City's paying agent, and are supported by limited taxes.

Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check, or certified check, payable to the municipality, or any combination thereof, aggregating one per cent of the par amount of said bonds, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for such bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the municipality unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the municipality, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Tax prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check will be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that the legislative authority of the municipality will meet at 8:00 o'clock p.m., E.S.T., on the 20th day of November, 1967, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds shall be delivered for payment within the State of Ohio to the purchaser or to a bank designated by the purchaser without charge. If delivered at a place outside the State of Ohio, the purchaser shall pay expense of delivery at that place.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the municipality shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate, and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the municipality or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter and so long as no such tender by the municipality shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Toledo Scrambles Mid-American Race

By SAM DOBBINS
Associated Press Writer

The name of the game still is football, but in the Mid-American Conference it looks more like a horse race.

Following a hectic weekend on the Ohio college football scene, the MAC scramble ended up in a three-way deadlock with Toledo, Miami and Western Michigan sporting 3-1 records.

Elsewhere, Ohio State came alive long enough to even its season mark at 2-2 with a 6-2 Big Ten victory over Northwestern; Dayton rolled up its most points in a quarter century in belting Temple 56-6; and woe - stricken Cincinnati was clubbed by Tulsa 35-6.

Surging Toledo had the big say in MAC play, smashing previously undefeated (in the conference) Western Michigan 35-9. Toledo put together drives of 80, 80, and 73 yards in grinding out the victory, holding the Broncos scoreless until the final period.

In the other key MAC game, Miami handed Ohio University its second loss in four conference outings, shading the Bobcats 22-15 on tailback Al Moores 73-yard touchdown run late in the game. Moore ground out 232 yards rushing as the Redskins put down an Ohio rally with only a few seconds remaining.

At Evanston, Ill., Ohio State halfback Dave Brungard set up the game's only touchdown by returning a second half kickoff 44 yards to Northwestern's 46. Nine plays later Brungard scored from two yards out.

Northwestern threatened in the final period, marching 84 yards to the Ohio State 7 where a rugged Buckeye defense turned back the point-hungry Wildcats.

Northwestern got on the scoreboard with 1:32 left as Ohio State Gerry Ehrsam, after two bad Buckeye punts, deliberately fell on the ball in his own end zone. OSU kicked off and drove the Wildcats deep into their own territory to run out the clock.

The first - ever meeting Between Dayton and Temple was highlighted by three touchdowns apiece from halfbacks Bill Mayo and Bob Madden. It was the most points collected by the Flyers since their 75 - 0 romp over Detroit in 1941.

Tulsa, even with three interceptions and three lost fumbles, had no trouble with Cincinnati, despite a good effort by Bearcat quarterback Greg Cook. Cook, knocked down continously by Tulsa's defense, passed for 185 yards.

In other games:

Bill Long caught three touchdown passes as Ohio Wesleyan bombed Wabash 41 - 0; Mount Union won its first Ohio Conference outing in five starts, shutting out Hiram 43 - 0; A. J. Vaughn hurled three TD aerials as Wayne State crushed Adelbert 49-20; Wilmington won its first decision in five starts by beating Case 47 - 13; Bluffton claimed the Mid - Ohio Conference title with its 27-7 victory over Defiance; and Rick Harbold scored three TDs and Jim Usynski passed for two as Muskingum beat Capital 34-13.

The others:

Bowling Green 7, Kent State 6; Marietta 21, Otterbein 7; Denison 27, Oberlin 6; Wooster 52, Kenyon 0; Heidelberg 19, Ashland 19 (tie); Akron 23, Baldwin - Wallace 23 (tie); Central Michigan 33, Central State 0; Wittenberg 37, John Carroll 0; Pensacola Navy 17, Youngstown 14; Xavier 40, Chattanoga 28; Kentucky State 13, Findlay 6; Midwestern (Iowa) at Ohio Northern, canceled.

Kentucky Wins First ABA Game

By The Associated Press

A pass from the Army and a spark from the bench set up the Kentucky Colonels for their first American Basketball Association victory Sunday night.

Lou Dampier, former University of Kentucky star on a weekend pass from the National Guard at Ft. Knox, Ky., dropped in 28 points, in the 106-96 victory over Minnesota. His two field goals put the Colonels ahead to stay 94-93 with 3:18 left.

He had plenty of help from Steward Johnson, who came off the bench in the second period and pocketed 22 points, including four three-point baskets beyond the 25-foot range.

Only 2,000 turned out to see Dallas lose its first game in two starts, dropping a 121-101 decision to unbeaten Indiana.

Fred Lewis scored 27 points and Roger Brown 26 as the Pacers won their fifth game. Bob Verga had 31 for Dallas, which fell behind 15-13 and never caught up.

In the National Basketball Association, Cincinnati and San Francisco beat the two expansion teams, Seattle and San Diego.

Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson powered a second-half Royal rally for a 106-94 victory over Seattle as Lucas hit 26 points and collected 24 rebounds and the Big O added 23 points and nine assists.

Nate Thurmond was the whole story in San Francisco's 137-126 triumph over San Diego as he scored 37 points and hauled in 26 rebounds. The Warriors took a 77-70 halftime lead and never trailed in the final half.

E. Liverpool Harriers Don't Place

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, the Fiscal Officer of the City of East Liverpool, herein referred to as the municipality, in the County of Columbiana, Ohio, at his office in the City Hall, 126 West Sixth Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, until 12:00 noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 20th day of November, 1967, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of the municipality in the aggregate amount of $34,800 authorized by ordinance passed October 16, 1967. Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Final Judgment Bonds."

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of December, 1967, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, except bond No. 1 in the denomination of $800, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year beginning June 1, 1968, at the rate of four per centum per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest but not in excess of 6% provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one per cent or a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows: $6,800 on December 1, 1969 and $7,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1970 to 1973, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of paying a final judgment rendered against the City in an action based on a noncontractual obligation.

Said bonds are payable at the office of The First National Bank of East Liverpool, East Liverpool, Ohio, without deduction for its services as the City's paying agent, and are supported by limited taxes.

Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check, or certified check, payable to the municipality, or any combination thereof, aggregating one per cent of the par amount of said bonds, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for such bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the municipality unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the municipality, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Tax prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check will be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that the legislative authority of the municipality will meet at 8:00 o'clock p.m., E.S.T., on the 20th day of November, 1967, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds shall be delivered for payment within the State of Ohio to the purchaser or to a bank designated by the purchaser without charge. If delivered at a place outside the State of Ohio, the purchaser shall pay expense of delivery at that place.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the municipality shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate, and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the municipality or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter and so long as no such tender by the municipality shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Junior Editors Quiz on SKIN DIVING

QUESTION: How does an Aqualung work?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Many divers use diving suits with helmets (or just helmets) which are connected to the surface by an air hose. This system works well in many cases, but much greater freedom is obtained if the diver can submerge using a breathing device that does not depend on any surface connection. Divers who do not use an air hose attached to a helmet are called skin divers. A skin diver may swim on the surface, looking down, breathing through a tube called a snorkel. But if he takes his air supply down below with him, this is SCUBA diving, the word coming from the first letters of self contained underwater breathing appartus. There are two types of SCUBA equipment; we illustrate one popular type which goes by the trade name of Aqualung, meaning water lung. The two tanks contain compressed air. The diver gets air from the tube to his right; the exhaled air goes out the other tube and bubbles up through the water. Each tank enables a diver to stay down from 40 to 60 minutes. Weights carry the diver below; he wears swimming flippers on his feet. Sunken treasure from Spanish galleons has actually been recovered by divers using this equipment.

House Crushes Bid To Cut Payroll

'Island Of Prosperity' Not Periled In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The current congressional economy wave is lapping at the doors of most federal agencies but shows little sign of threatening the island of prosperity Congress has created on Capitol Hill.

The House voted last week to clamp drastic restrictions on spending by executive department agencies. But the same day it crushed a move to trim 5 per cent from its own payroll—or, as Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., said, "to take the same medicine it wants to administer to other government agencies."

Sikes' amendment was aimed at a House payroll that has skyrocketed 84 per cent in the past six years and now is nearing $50 million annually. Upwards of 500 employes of House or Senate are paid $20,000 or more a year, a survey shows.

Sikes' colleagues listened politely to his contention that the House cannot "in good grace exempt itself from the restrictions on spending that we proposed for others." Then it rejected his amendment 134 to 66.

A week earlier, the House shouted down a move by Rep. Edward J. Derwinski, R-Ill., to put "some restraint on runaway salaries" by exempting congressional employes from a 4.5 per cent federal pay raise. That same day, though, other House members used nearly the same argument to exclude federal antipoverty workers from the pay raise bill.

Another area unlikely to suffer major cuts are public works projects, commonly called the "pork barrel." The bill sending federal funds into nearly every congressional district for reclamation, flood control, river and harbor projects is now in conference committee. Earlier attempts in the House and Senate to trim it 5 per cent were soundly defeated.

Rejection of the two attempts to cut back or hold the line on spending in Congress itself came as House members moved toward adoption of a directive that President Johnson cut expenditures an estimated $6 billion to $8 billion in the current fiscal year.

Administration forces are pressing in the Senate to junk the House directive, or at least dilute it. The Senate Appropriations Committee eliminated the provision Friday. The Senate is expected to act this week, and a House-Senate fight likely will follow.

The bitter budget fight has its roots, some congressmen say, in the Vietnam war and the $2 billion a month required to pay for it.

War costs were a major factor in Johnson's still-stalled request for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Polls show the public favors spending cuts over a tax increase. Congressmen say they are reflecting the views of their constituents when they slash the budget.

"All they are doing is playing politics," declares Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla., who opposed last week's House action. "They are worrying about their image back home."

"If it is, it's damn good politics," replies Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, D-Miss., who helped engineer the cutback directive. "This House has reflected the feeling of the people."

In fighting his losing battle to restrain "runaway salaries" on Capitol Hill, Derwinski zeroed in on the House postmaster, who is paid $23,764 a year and supervises 85 employes. The New York City postmaster, Derwinski said, receives $2,500 a year less but supervises 39,791 employes. Under the federal pay boost, the House postmaster would get an annual raise of $1,088, he added.
